The Energy!

Lance Morgan

Lance,

I am glad I got to know you this year. Next year we will rule over all varsity players. We will play all during the ~~summer~~ summer until we shoot 70's. Have a great summer.

Your friend

Stephen Turner

Lance,

This year is almost over. I don't want to say this year has been great like everyone else but it has been a quick year.

I'm lucky you sat in front of me so I would have someone to talk to. Keep practicing golf and maybe this ~~year~~ summer I'll call you and we can go play golf together.

Your friend

Casey Mitchell

Lance,

I have really enjoyed getting to know you this year in biology! You are such a great guy and I guess that's why I like you! Most guys are such jerks. You have made this class so interesting, and funny. You and Louis's sarcasm is just to much.

P.S.

I LOVE YA,

Have a great Summer.

Missy

Lance,

Well, we made it through Riddle's bug, leaf, and whatever collection. His lectures were so boring, but we had a lot of fun anyway. Even though we don't really know each other, I hope that can change. You're a really sweet guy and I hope we have ^{something} English together next year. You are a super golfer - keep it up. Have an exciting summer!!

Experience The Energy

Lance,

(282-2579) Love,
Jimmy H. Hs

I have been fun in Latin this year. That class seems kinda like we're all family. I hope we can become better friends in Latin II. Have a great summer and be sure to study great Latin. KIT 282-383

Kari

Lance,

but I'm sure by now you're sick of hearing me say "what's the answer to number 4"!! So we did make it through Geometry! You're a really sweet guy & I hope that I have you in some classes next year. Have a good summer & stay sweet! Love, Annie

Lance,
Hey bud! You're a really sweet guy! and I'm glad you're my friend! Hopefully we have classes together next year because you're sooo fun! @ and ♡, N
P.S. And lance, I would appreciate it if you wouldn't follow me around at Patti's Pennys any more! I mean by the groupie!

LANGEY

Hey Lancer! Well I got tired of blue ink so I decided to use black. The year's gone by pretty fast. Biology was just so much fun.

I still think you're too smart! See you next year. Maybe we'll have some classes together. HAVE a COSMIC Summer

P.S. Never forget

New Year Charges Returning Raiders

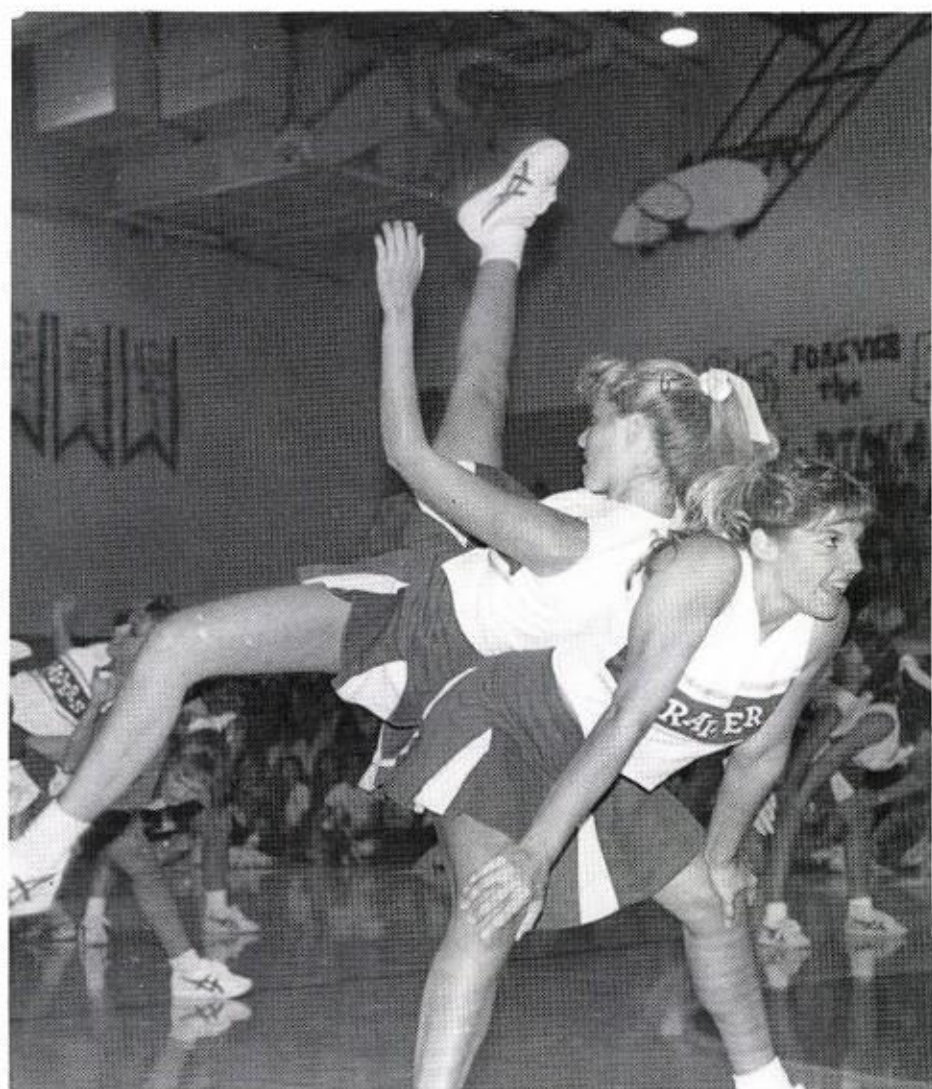

Electricity filled the air as the Raiders of 1985-86 returned to school. For super-charged Seniors, the countdown to graduation began. Juniors sparked off an electric year with a first-place ribbon for Homecoming decorations, while Sophomores were still experiencing a state of shock.

With an unexpected 9-2 season, the Blue Raider football team had the student body charged up for a victorious season. Brain-waves, too, were in high gear as six-week report cards came and went without a single varsity player being removed for failure.

Magnetic attractions registered high on the meter as currents ran rampant. For Sophomores, static electricity transformed into powerful current electricity, charged by a pep rally award, through an ace generator, L.D. Bell. Organizations, activities, and general craziness proved an accesible outlet to stored energy.

Academics Burn At 1000 Watts

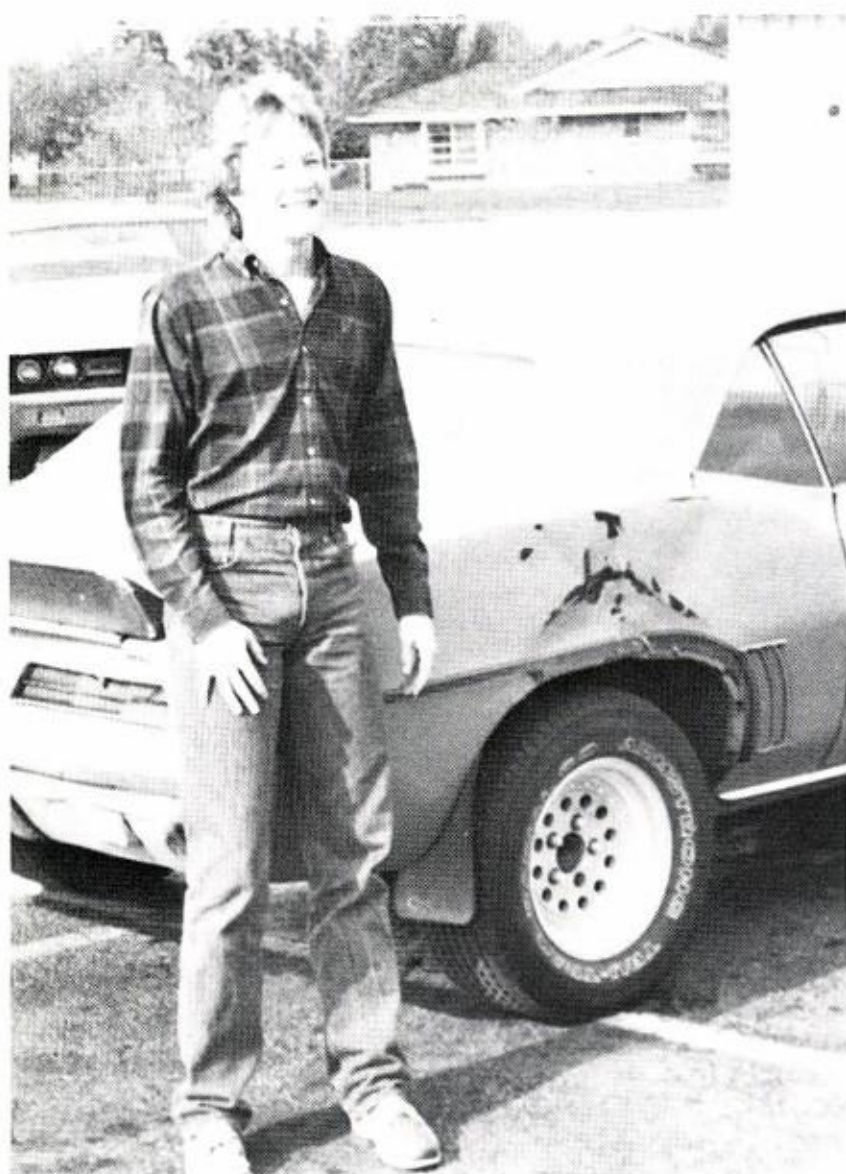

Book learnin'. Not much fun, really. But at Bell, the learning experience went beyond readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic. Several classrooms used new "hands-on" techniques to help students learn. Government classes learned about a 1944 Supreme Court case by enacting a trial, complete with nine Justices, defense and prosecuting attorneys, and witnesses. Presentations and projects were used as tools in history, English, and foreign languages to promote education.

With all the strict policy changes, better education was a must, and teachers and students cooperated to reach new heights in academic energy. During the Government trials, heated debates carried on outside of class, as decisions were finally, painfully, made. Verdicts varied from class to class, remaining only partially with the actual Kormatsu case of the 1940's.

"It was the scariest experience of my life. I remember seeing the guy run a stop-sign across from me. The next thing I knew, I was in the hospital with a dislocated shoulder. I woke up 3 hours after the accident and my parents told me I was thrown through my window onto the pavement. I'm glad I passed out."- Brian Holton, Sr.

The Year Started Off With A Bang

Metal scraping against metal, the squeal of locking brakes, and the high-pitched shattering of breaking glass were sounds all too familiar to several students. Broken headlights, missing bumpers, and crunched hoods and fenders provided visual testimony to the collisions experienced. The thrill of driving, the ever-present challenge of the open road, and simple two-point turns took on new meaning as accidents occurred just once too often. Insurance rates sky-rocketed from barely affordable to completely unbearable, and jobs, for some, became a must. Thanks, Driver's License!!

Pep Rallies Refuel Students

Finally, the announcement would come: "Please release all students to report to the gym." After a mad dash to the main gym, Raiders partied for 30 minutes at weekly pep rallies. Dressing up for the theme provided an outlet for spirited Raiders. For eleven straight Friday's, an excited air filled the gym as pep rallies recharged the football team and student body for the game and weekend.

A Dedication To Energy

Imagine walking into a pep rally. Entering Mrs. Pam Wieland's classroom was much the same experience. With hilarious flashcards, she cheered her students on to learning. Turning a foreign language class into an exciting experience was easy for Mrs. Wieland, who often pitted one half of the class against the other to compete for various small prizes. Deeply involved in Spanish Club, Mrs. Wieland took time out to get to know her students and club members, individually. To students and faculty alike, Mrs. Pam Wieland was the epitome of a friend. "Energetic, friendly, and funny — she's wonderful, I really think a lot of her," said Mrs. Mary Jane Harbison, German teacher. The 1985-86 Raider Staff is proud to dedicate a yearbook devoted to energy to a woman devoted to energy, Mrs. Pam Wieland!

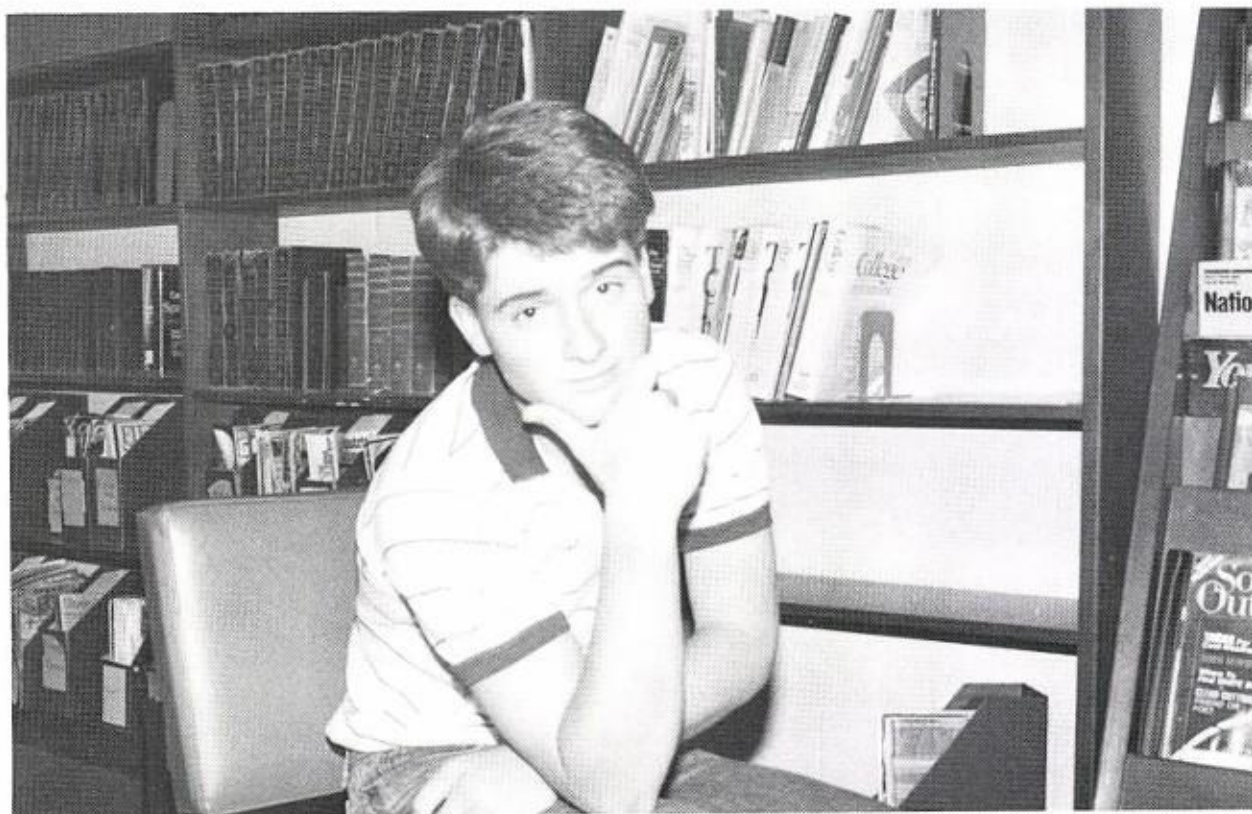

"Pam's the most energetic, vivacious person I know ... she's at school before I'm even out of bed!" -Mrs. Judy Chapman, Dedicatee, 1985

Honors

Teacher Of The Year

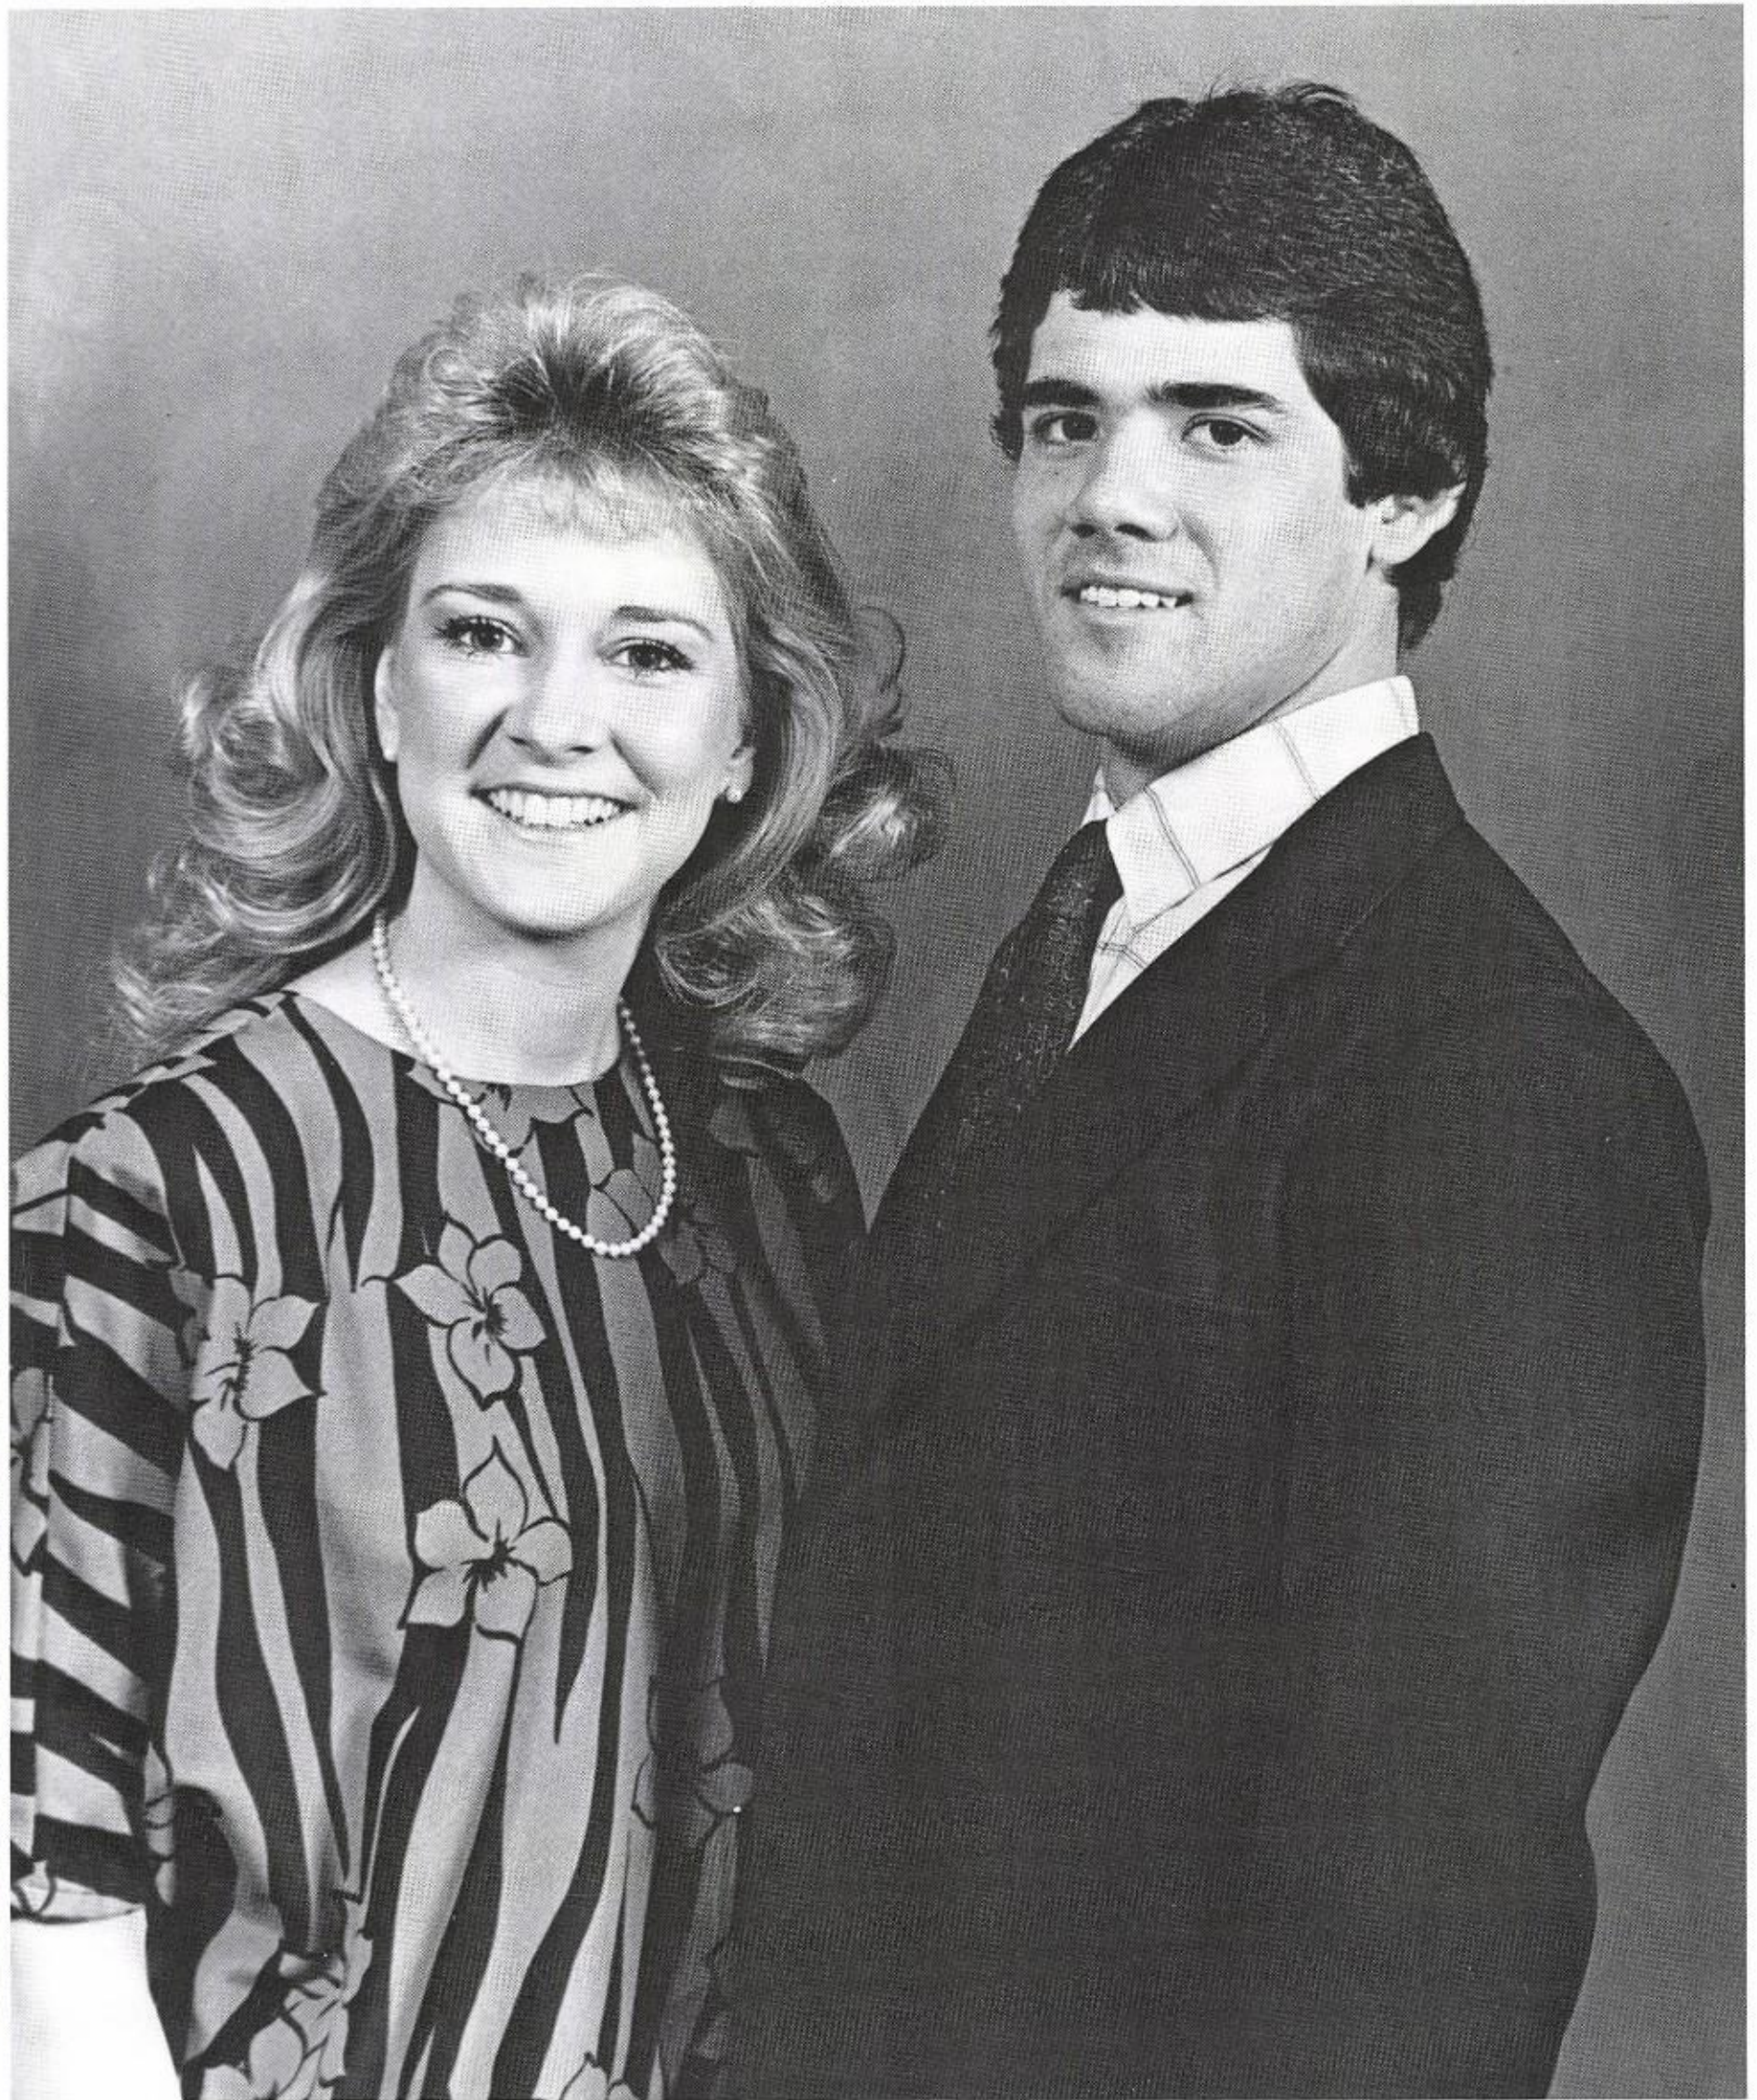

Mrs. Diane Gibson is a very good choice for the award of Teacher of the Year. She has dedicated herself to L.D. Bell High School for six years. Mrs. Gibson assists with Student Council, Class Council, Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD), Faculty Council, and she is campus director of Forum For Young America. Mrs. Sarah Davis, government teacher, said "The reason one person is able to do all these things in a lifetime is because she cares- the one quality that sets her apart."

In the classroom, Mrs. Gibson has boundless energy in everything she does. Her students sense this enthusiasm in the subject matter she teaches. Her warmth and sincerity has made her popular with her students and fellow teachers. Mrs. Linda Reeves, Social Studies lead teacher, says, "I am proud to have Mrs. Gibson as a friend. She is one that I can always count on for support as her energy seems boundless." Mrs. Gibson was chosen by the faculty to represent Bell in district-wide competition.

Mr. And Miss Bell High School

Stephanie Railsback And Rod Brock

Stephanie Railsback Honored As Miss Bell High School

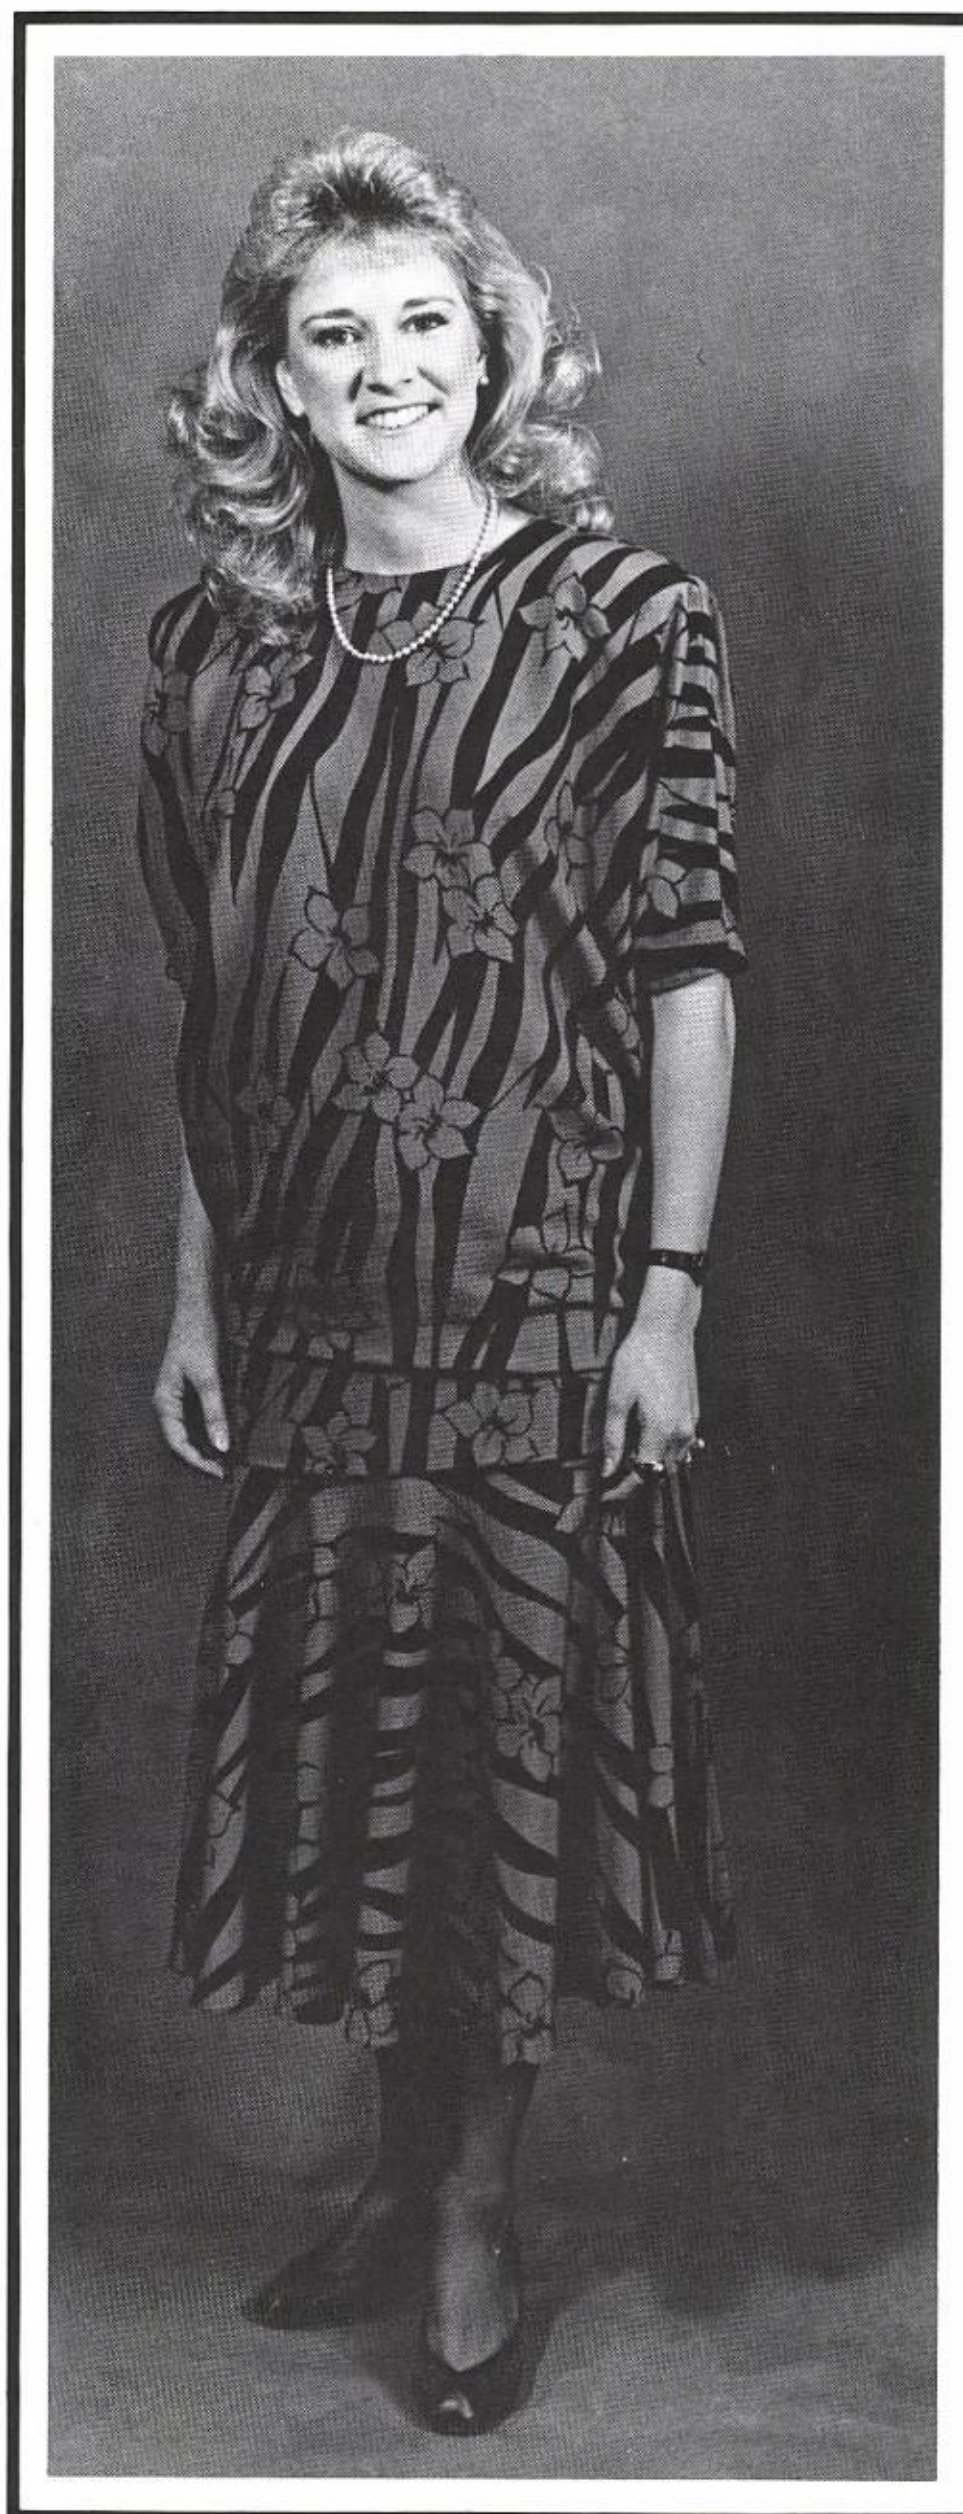

Spirit, pride, dedication, and motivation towards L.D. Bell won Stephanie Railsback the honor of Miss Bell High School. She is looked upon by the faculty and the students as a good friend. Her bright personality and her sparkling smile light up the halls. Stephanie spent many hours with all the activities she participated in to help make L.D. Bell the best.

This year Stephanie was involved in Student Council, where she was secretary, Class Council, National Honor Society, Thespians, Bell Players, Young Life, Campaigners, F.C.A., and Raiderettes, which she served as the Vice-President. Out of all her activities, Stephanie enjoyed Student Council the most because she enjoyed being involved with predominantly positive people. Stephanie's personality and beauty also won her the title of Homecoming Queen and All School Favorite.

Stephanie feels that the best thing about Bell is the people. She said that the students, staff and faculty all working together, and really caring about each other makes Bell what it is today. Her plan for the immediate future is to attend Westmont College in Santa Barbara, California. In twenty years she sees herself involved in a successful business, happily married with three kids, and very content with her life.

Her motto is, "Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility; consider others better than yourself." This motto has led Stephanie to reaching all her goals and keeping a positive attitude. When asked what advice she would leave for upcoming seniors, Stephanie said, "Be sure and look out for other people in your class, for you will never be truly happy if you only care for yourself."

We congratulate Stephanie as Miss Bell High School. Her pride and dedication towards Bell are only a few of the outstanding reasons Stephanie Railsback has been selected as Miss Bell High School for the 1985-1986 school year.

Rod Brock Selected For Mr. Bell High School

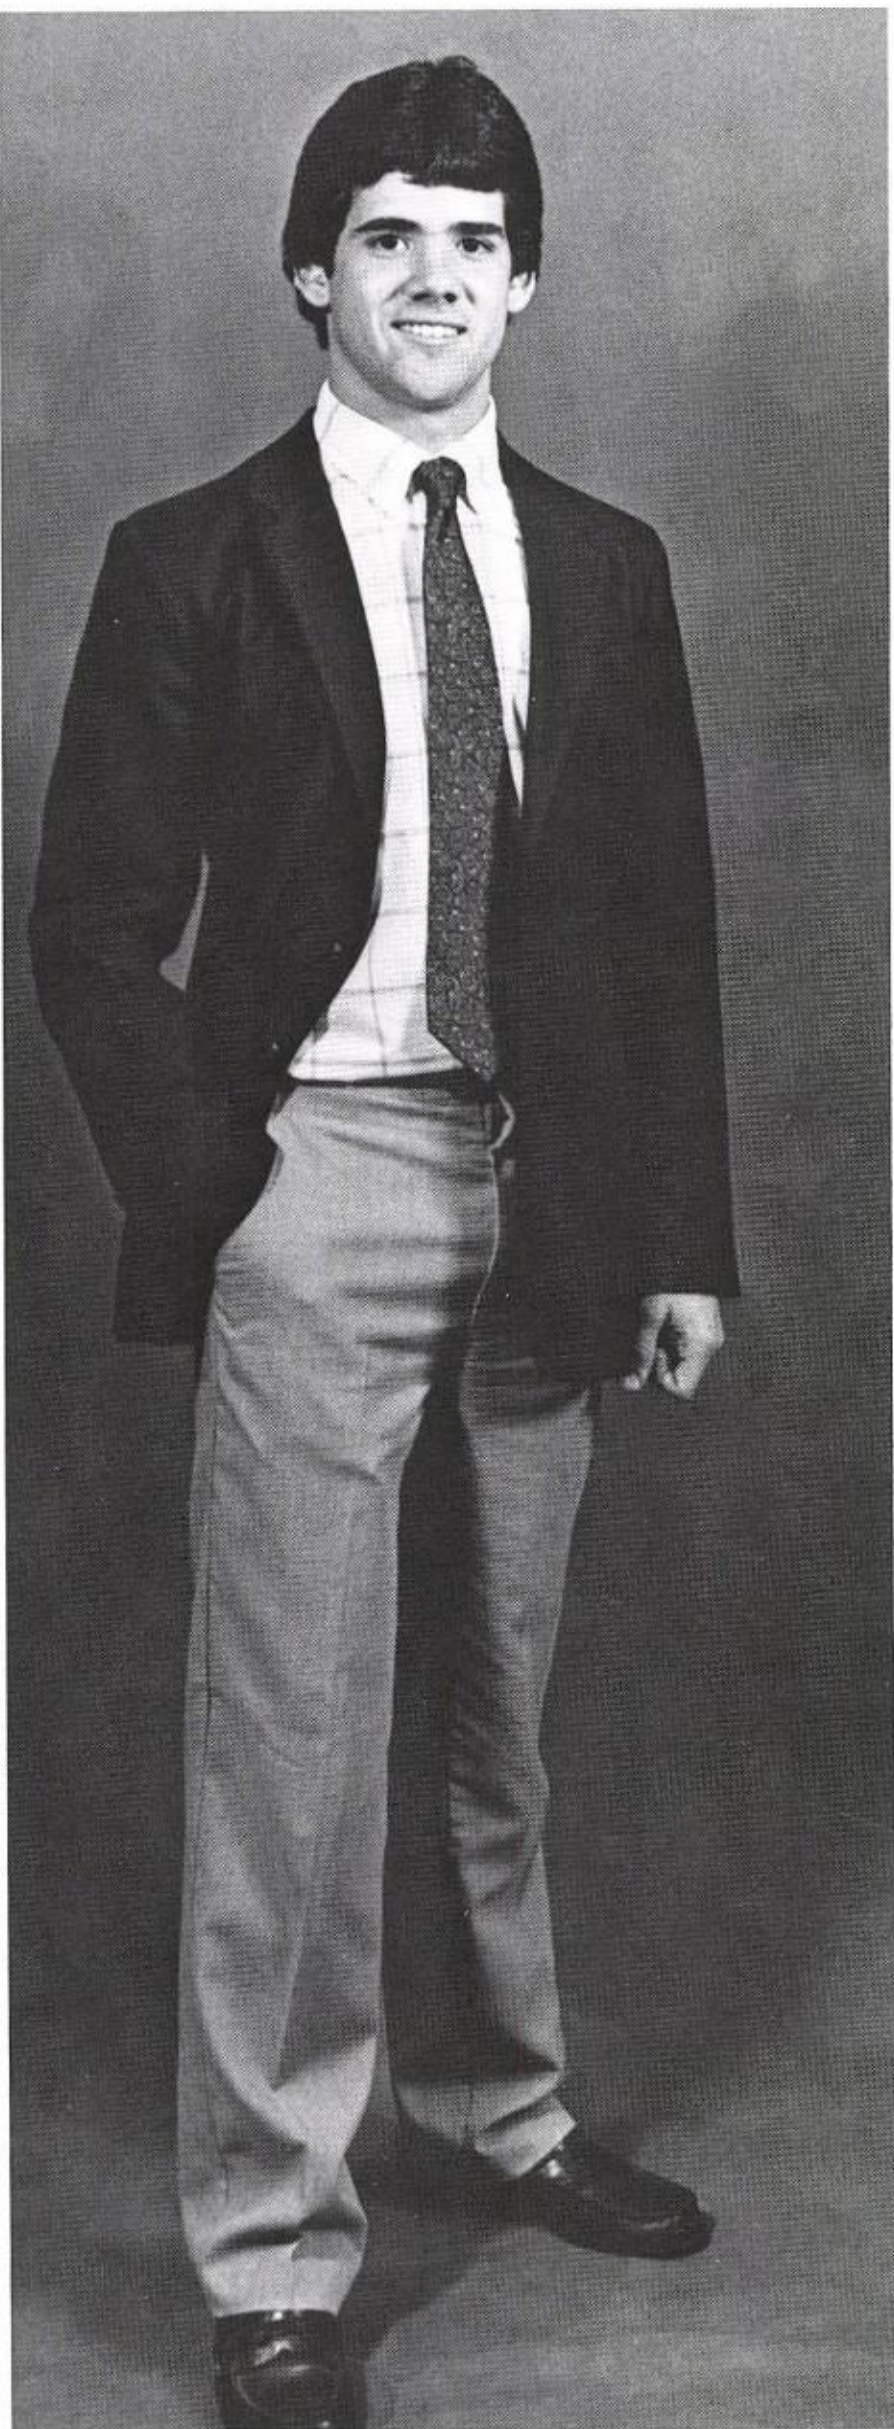

Rod Brock, a leader as well as a friend, is a deserving choice for Mr. Bell High School. Rod contributed many hours towards the many activities he participated in at Bell. He was involved in Student Council, Class Council, where he served as Vice-President, Football, Track, Cross Country, Young Life, and National Honor Society. Rod put a lot of time into National Honor Society as Vice-President, he was responsible for setting up tutoring sessions for all students who wanted help.

Rod liked the unique relationship that exists between faculty and students most at Bell. He said that the students are encouraged by the faculty to rise above the ordinary and to reach for excellence. "Reach high, for stars lie hidden in your soul. Dream deep, for every dream precedes a goal" is the motto Rod lives by, which helps him to accomplish his goals.

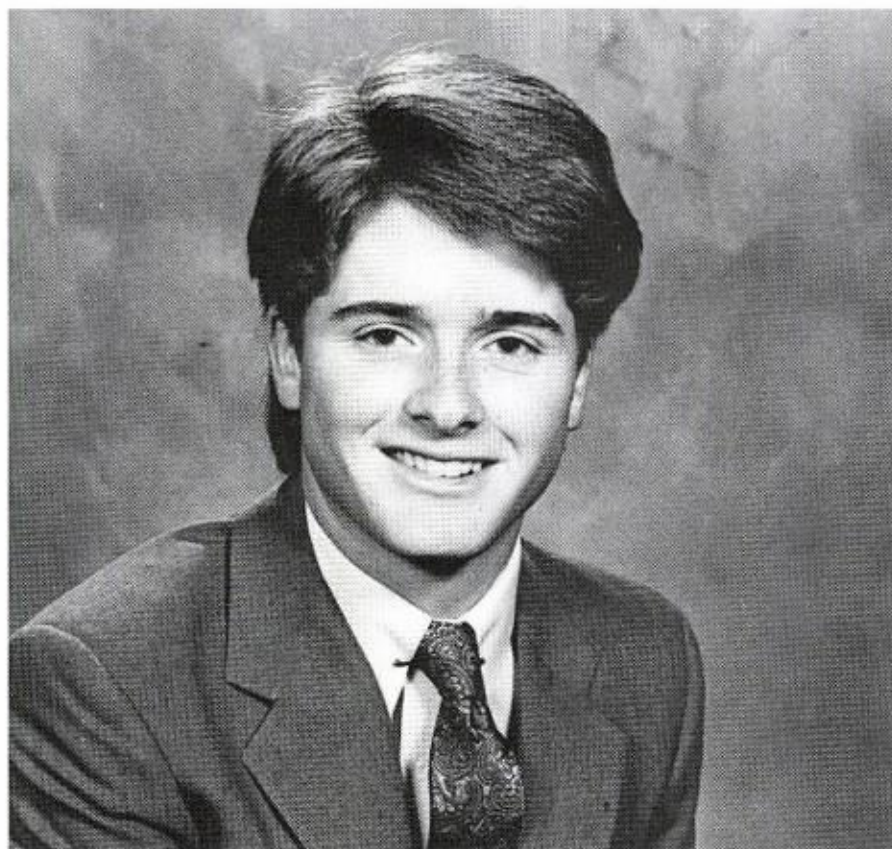

Rod proved his ability to be a strong leader in Varsity track where he won numerous awards. Some of his honors include his participation in Texas Relays in Austin on the 3200 meter relay team, his first place awards in the 3200 meter at the Southwest Conference Indoor meet in 1984 and 1985, and his district championship award in the 7-5A 800 meter run in 1984.

Rod was asked what advice he would leave for upcoming students and he said, "Use each day to its fullest, for though the day may move slowly, the years pass quickly." Rod's plans for the immediate future are to attend Austin College and major in pre-med. In twenty years he sees himself happily married with three children and operating his own sports medicine clinic.

Rod Brock is definitely a popular choice for the honor of Mr. Bell High School.

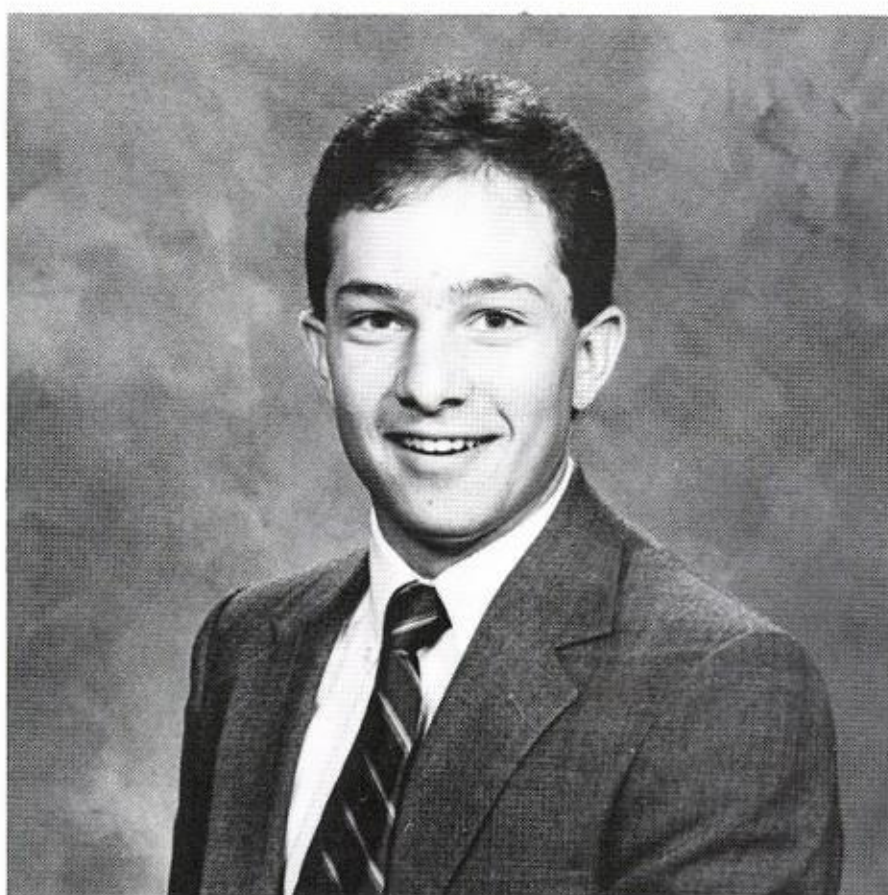

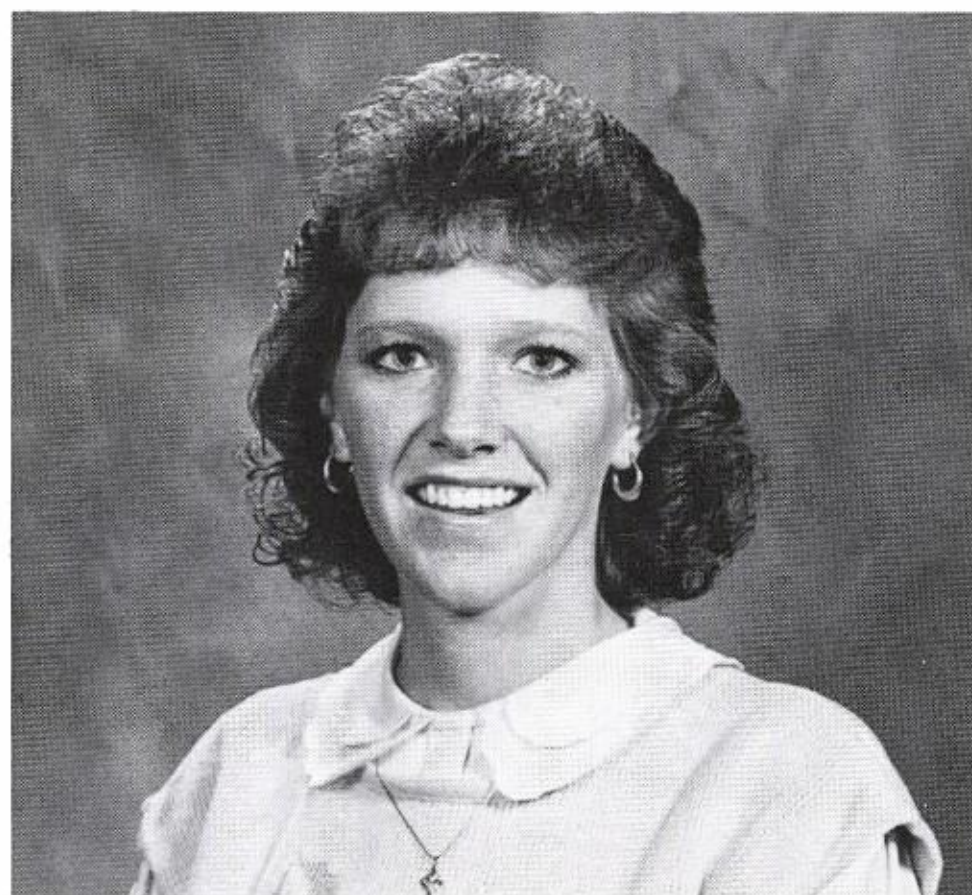

Students Honored By Faculty

Andy Fuller enjoyed Wranglers most out of all his activities. His activities included Wranglers, Student Council, Class Council, National Honor Society President, Golf, and Young Life. Andy's favorite thing about Bell was getting to be really good friends with people and getting to know the faculty better. The highlight of his three years at Bell was the Homecoming pep-rally. Andy's advice to upcoming students is to get involved in school and enjoy it. His motto is, "Go for it!"

Julie McMurry's favorite activity at Bell was Cross Country. She also participated in National Honor Society, Annual Staff, and Track. Her dedication and hard work in running won Julie the award of Most Improved Runner in Cross Country. Julie's favorite thing about Bell is the equality and the friendliness. The highlight of her high school years was the regional Cross Country meet her Senior year. Julie plans to attend North Texas State University to major in accounting after graduation. Julie lives by the motto, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

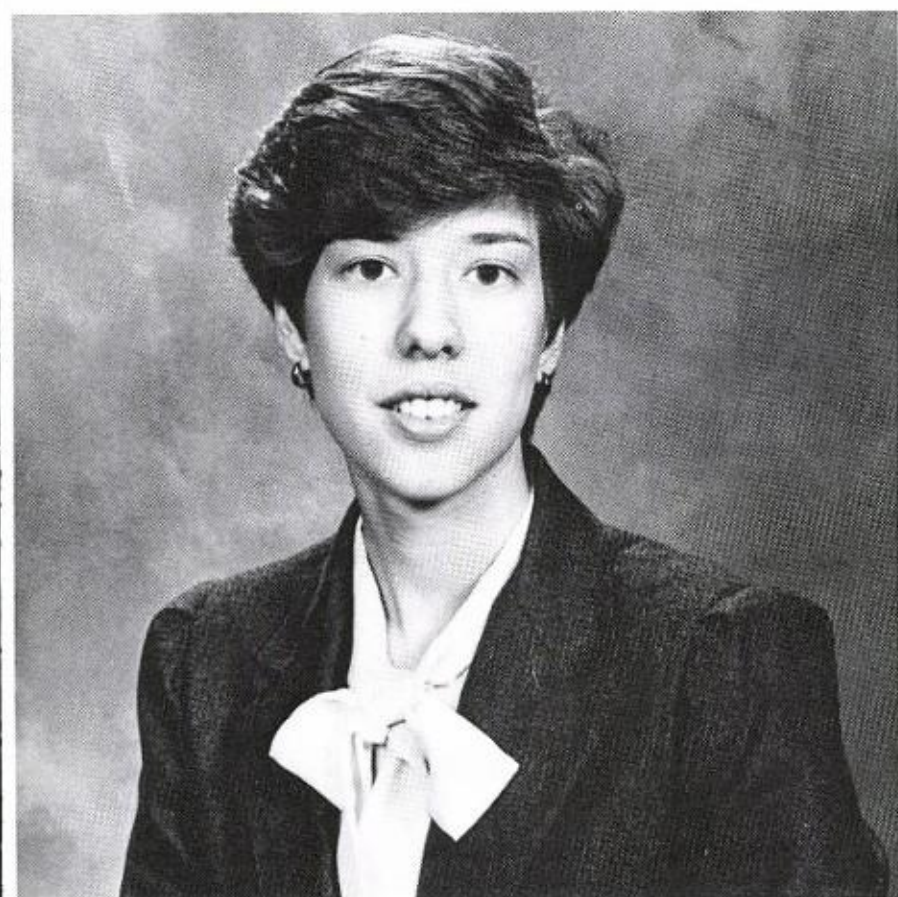

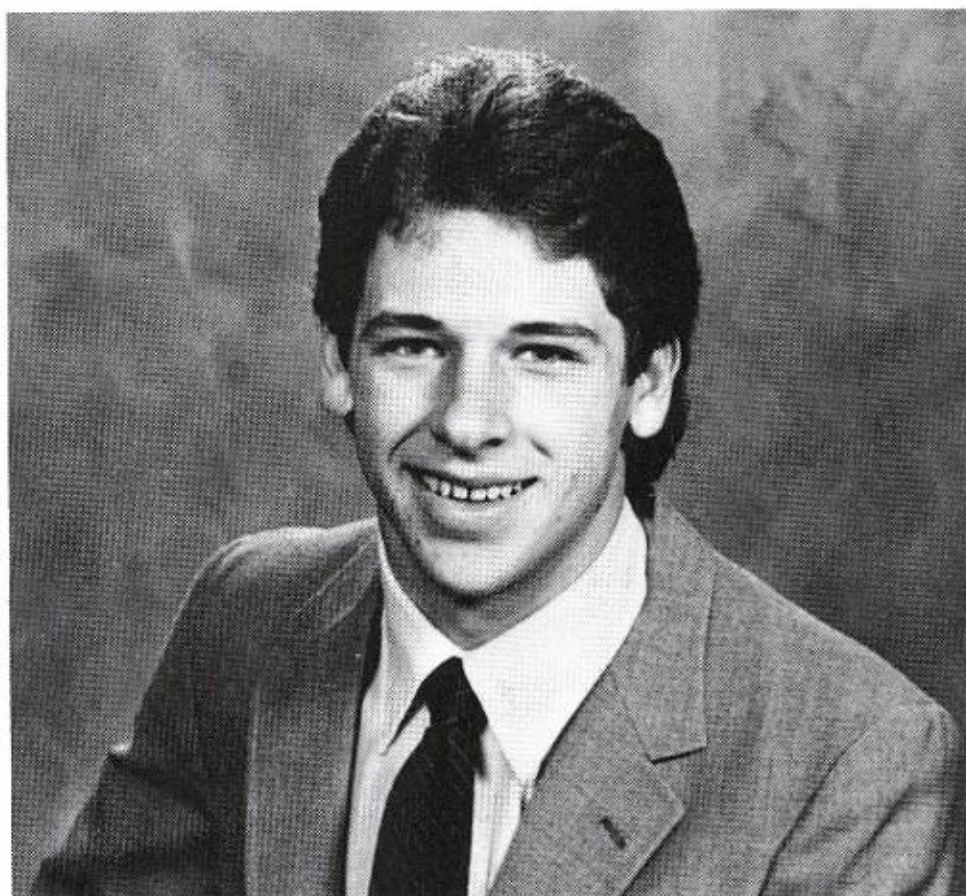

Serving as president of the Senior Class, Matthew Moore has been a strong leader on campus. The thing Matt enjoyed most at Bell was the fact that the students and faculty work together as one unit. His future plans are to attend college and study pre-law. When asked what he would be doing in twenty years, Matthew replied, "I see myself working in a small law firm, having a family, and hopefully living comfortably and happy." Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you" is the motto Matthew lives by.

As Senior Superlatives For 1986

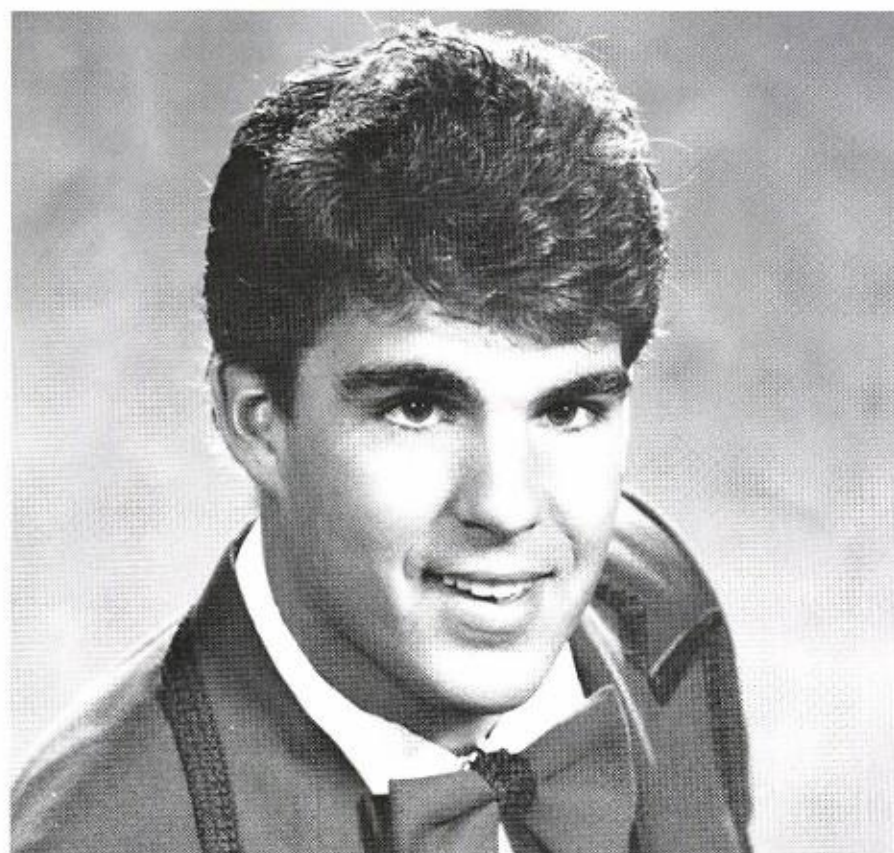

Rebecca Yarbrough was involved in many activities at Bell. She enjoyed Volleyball the most, but she was also involved in National Honor Society, Young Life, F.H.A., and Spanish Club. Rebecca likes the variety of organizations at Bell. She said that there is something for everyone who wants to be involved. Advice she left for upcoming students is to be involved with as many different clubs and organizations as possible. Her motto is, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

Jud Chappell participated in Student Council, National Honor Society, and served as Vice-President of the Spanish Club. Jud plans to attend Texas A&M University and major in Agricultural Education to become a Veterinarian. His favorite thing about Bell is the fact that all of the clubs and organizations are so willing to help people on and off campus. His advice to upcoming students is, "Don't mess around with your schoolwork because your grades are the most important things you've got in high school."

Because of Suzi Larkin's dedication to Band, she won numerous awards. She was named All-Region Band and All-Region Orchestra. She also received the Who's Who Award for Band. Her favorite thing about L.D. Bell was the unity and school spirit demonstrated by the student body. Suzi's future plans are to attend Rice University or Texas A&M University to major in electrical engineering. The advice she leaves for upcoming students is, "Get involved in a major organization."

Superlatives Demonstrate

As President of Student Council, Kevin West was a very dedicated student. He was involved in football, National Honor Society, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Young Life, and FHA. Kevin's future plans are to attend Texas A and M and then law school. He liked the way people stick together and accept everybody at Bell the most. When asked what advice he would leave for upcoming students, he said, "Do everything and be everything." In twenty years he sees himself practicing law and having a wife and two kids.

Leigh-Anna Spaulding liked the many activities available and the closeness of the students most at Bell. Leigh-Anna plans to attend the University of Texas at Austin after graduation. She has played a major role here on campus. She was involved in Student Council, F.H.A., National Honor Society, and Spanish Club. She was also a cheerleader for three years. Leigh-Anna sees herself having a degree in Architectural design and managing an architectural firm in twenty years. When asked what advice she would leave for upcoming students, Leigh-Anna said, "Work hard to achieve many different kinds of goals and do not let others influence your decisions."

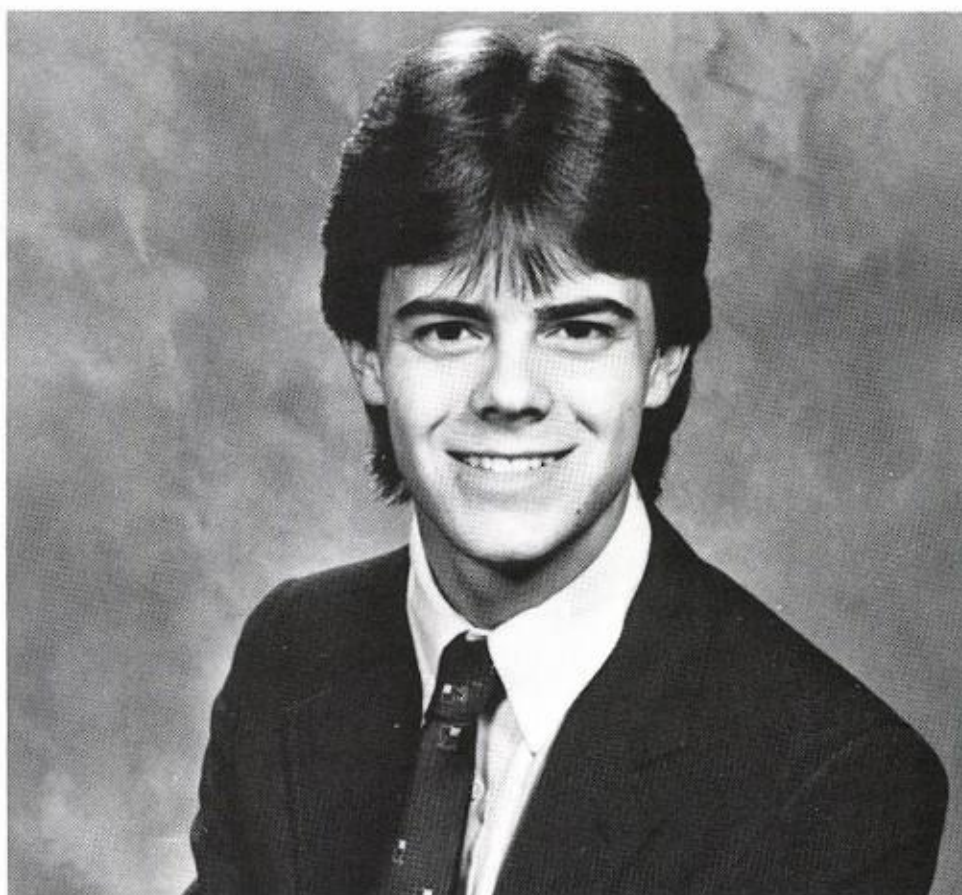

Participating in Class Council, National Honor Society, FCA, Baseball, and Football kept Jay Franz involved at Bell. Some of Jay's awards for his excellence in Football were Who's Who, first team all-district, Northeast Tarrant County first team and mid-cities all area first team. When asked what advice he would leave for upcoming students, Jay said, "Academics first, Athletics second." In Twenty years, Jay sees himself being a certified Public Accountant in Florida with a family. His plans for the immediate future are to attend the University of Texas or St. Mary's to major in Accounting.

Leadership and Dedication

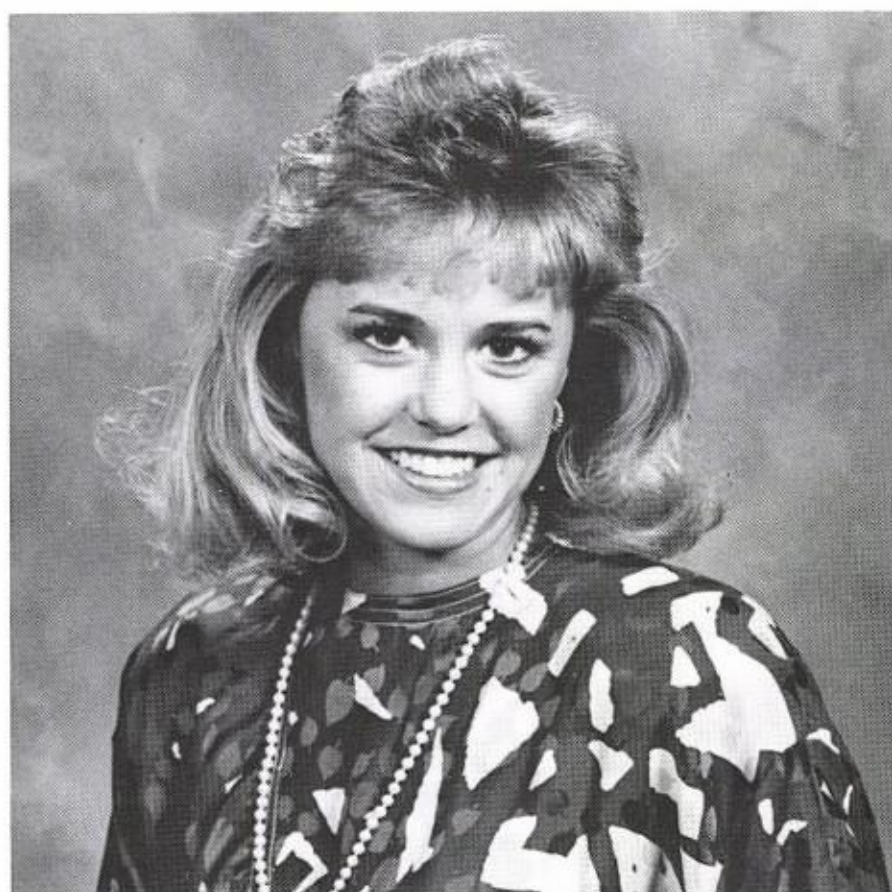

Basketball, Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Young Life kept Rachelle Limosnero involved at Bell. She lives by the motto, "Aim high, work hard, and persevere." Following this motto, she is sure to come out on top while attending Baylor University or University of Dallas to pursue a career in dentistry. Twenty years from now she sees herself as a successful dentist. Rachellen enjoyed Basketball most out of all her activities. Her favorite thing about Bell was the closeness that existed between every student and teacher. The advice she leaves for upcoming students is that you only fail when you stop trying.

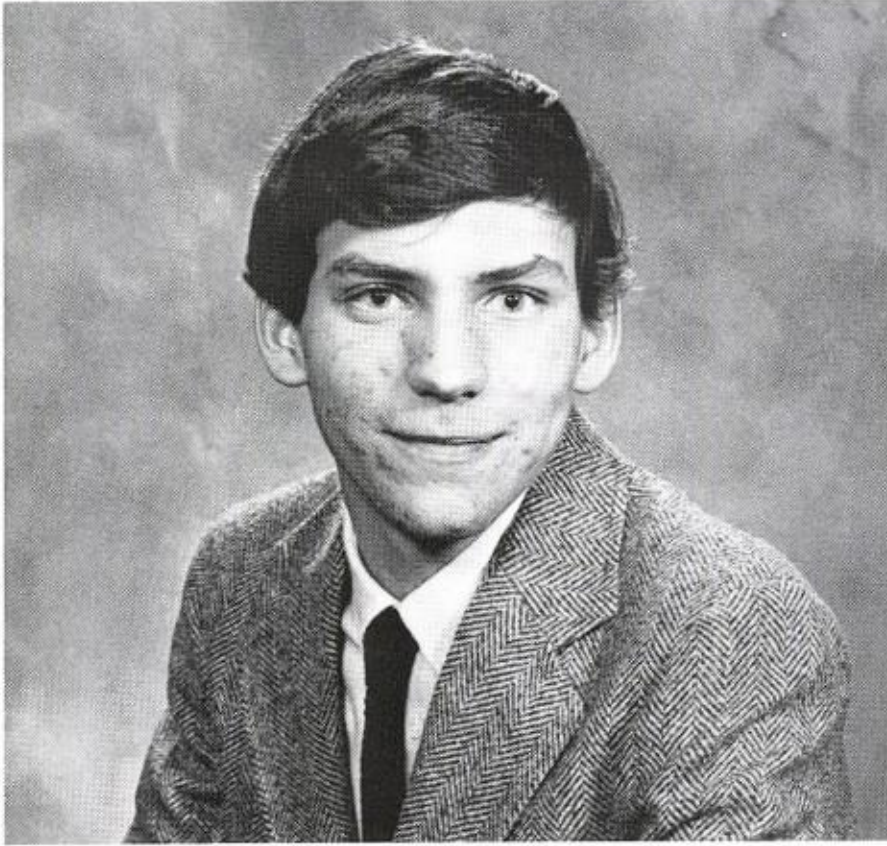

Chris Whittaker participated in Wranglers, Academic Decathlon, and National Honor Society. The thing he liked most about Bell was that everyone's important, no one person makes up Bell. When asked what advice he would leave for upcoming students, Chris said, "Get involved in school." Besides being elected Raiderette Beau and receiving the Optimist Award, Chris received many academic awards. After graduation, Chris plans to get an Industrial Engineering degree at Texas Tech. and in twenty years he sees himself with a family and working in business or financial management.

Displaying her talent through cheerleading, Melanie Jennings has earned many awards for her efforts. She was named Who's Who in Cheerleading, All-American Cheerleader finalist, first runner-up in the "Best Cheerleading Contest" at National Competition, and UTA All Star Cheerleader. Melanie was active in the Student Council, Class Council, and French Club. Her future plans consist of attending the University of Oklahoma to major in Fashion Merchandising. "If you can imagine it, you can achieve it. If you can dream it, you can become it," is the motto Melanie lives by.

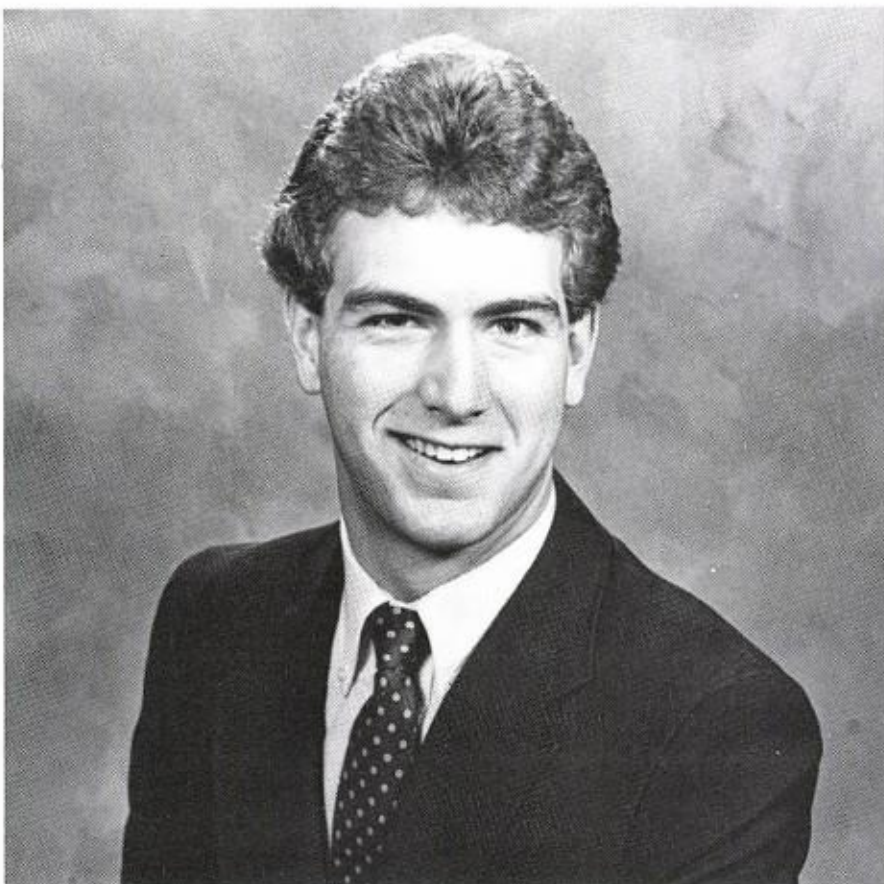

Recognized For

Jason Ott's motto is, "Far and away the best prize that life offers is the chance to work hard at work worth doing." Activities on campus included National Honor Society, Academic Decathlon, Spanish Club, Whiz Quiz, and president of the Science Club. Twenty years from now, Jason sees himself happily married and serving as an officer in the U.S. Navy. The highlights of his three years at Bell were the friendships he has made and the knowledge he acquired in Academic Decathlon. Jason's future plans are to major in Aerospace Engineering at the U.S. Naval Academy.

As editor of the Blue Print, Denae Wordelman received many journalistic awards during high school. She sees herself as a commercial pilot or a television broadcaster twenty years from now. Denae's motto is, "True belief in yourself may only be achieved through true belief in God." The advice she leaves for upcoming students is to be who you want to be, not what others expect you to be.

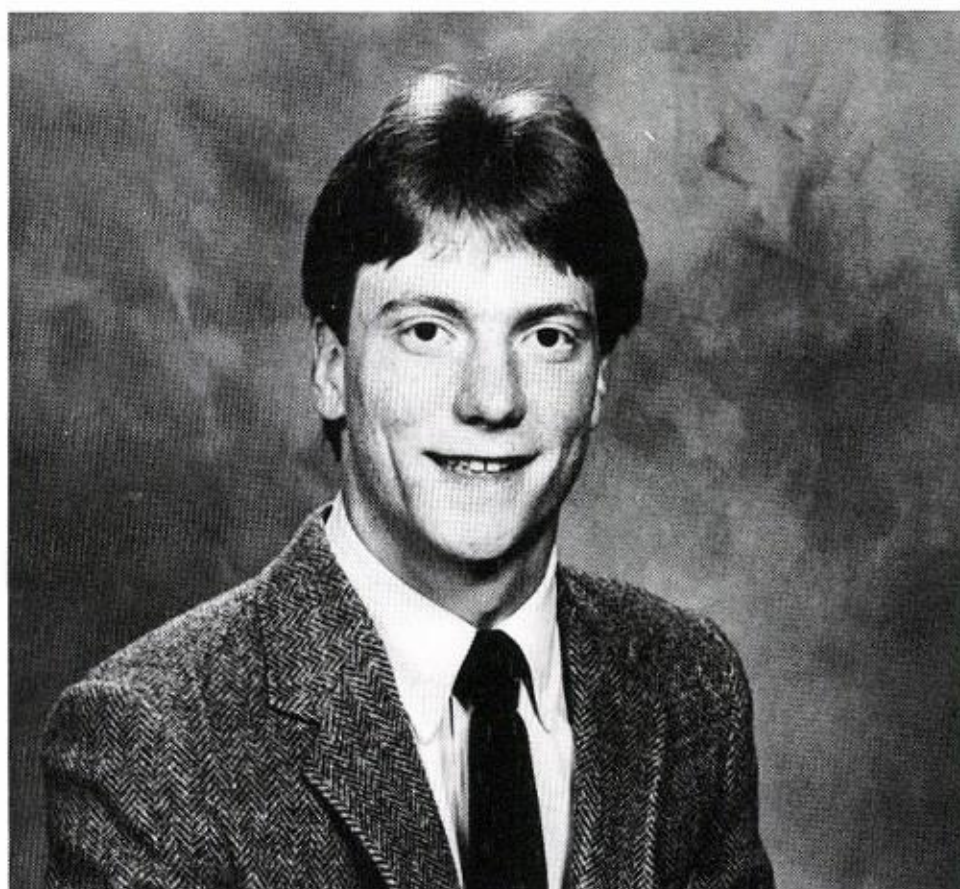

Ken Bates participated in Student Council, Class Council, National Honor Society, and Wranglers. He has received the Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Award, and he was in the top five in the Most Beautiful Most Handsome Pageant. His plans for the future include attending college to obtain an accounting degree. Receiving the Senior Superlative award highlighted his three years at Bell. Ken enjoyed the closeness shared between the students and faculty. His motto is "Wherever you go . . . there you are."

Academic Success

While attending Bell High School, Andrea McIlvain has displayed her talent in soccer. She received Who's Who in Soccer, the Dallas Morning News Dallas Maverick Avia Award, and All-District soccer player. She also participated in the German Club, National Honor Society, Young Life, and Art Club. Andrea liked the feeling of pride and devotion, and she liked the desire for excellence most at Bell. Upon graduation, she plans to attend Baylor University to major in law. When asked what she would be doing in twenty years, Andrea said, "I see myself happily married and raising my children in a loving atmosphere."

Craig Hutchins plans to attend the University of Texas to major in business. His motto is, "The loser resists change; the winner dares to be different." Craig participated in Class Council, National Honor Society, Golf, Wranglers, and Young Life. His favorite thing about Bell was participating in the SASC Convention. The advice Craig leaves for upcoming students is, "Get involved in as many things as you can and help Bell continue to be the best." Twenty years from now he sees himself having his own business and having a very happy family.

Christi Moore was involved in many activities at Bell. She participated in golf, volleyball, basketball, and FCA. Christi's future plans are to attend a four year college on a golf scholarship. When asked what she liked most about Bell, Christi said, "I like the student unity and spirit and the busy schedule of the school." Christi's highlight of her three years at Bell was when the girls golf team won district and regional and went to state. Her motto is, "Confidence is the key to success." This motto should help Christi go far in life.

Raiderette Wins Title

As always, Homecoming was a very special event, a time when school spirit filled the entire building. The announcement of the Homecoming Queen was a very memorable part of the week. With the gym filled with signs, streamers and spirited students, the nervous nominees walked across the floor to take their stand. Then, when all was silent, Mr. Tom Dickson, sponsor of the National Honor Society, announced Raiderette, Stephanie Railsback, Homecoming Queen 1985-86. Excitement and astonishment were shown on Stephanie's face as Trisha Bowman, Coming-Home Queen, placed the crown on Stephanie's head. Stephanie had been a member of the Class Council for three years, a three year member of Student Council, and served as secretary her senior year. Stephanie was also a member of National Honor Society, Vice President of Raiderettes, Young Life, Bell Players, and Thespians. The student body congratulates Stephanie Railsback as the Homecoming Queen for the 1985-86 school year.

NHS Meets Reform Challenges

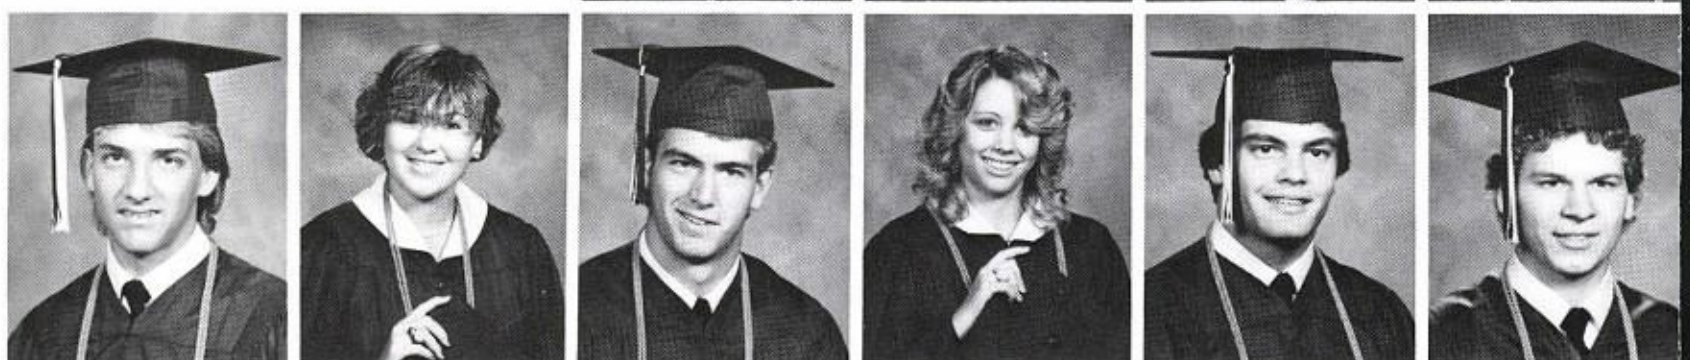

Through the constant energy the Honor Society presented, it gave a new meaning to the standards of excellence it has always upheld. Honor Society contributed to school spirit with the annual jacket sales. As in years past, the members played an important role in the Homecoming activities. The NHS sponsors worked especially hard, distributing and counting the ballots for the election of the Homecoming Queen.

The Honor Society was a very elite group and proved that despite the many state legislative changes to improve education, a high grade point average could still be maintained. Mr. Tom Dickson, Mrs. Sherilyn Cotten, and Mrs. Judy Chapman shared their time and energy to sponsor the 1985 Honor Society.

The Members Of Student Council

Amplify School Spirit

Student Council was a very important organization at L.D. Bell. They spent many hours preparing to become better leaders of the student body. Over the summer, the L.D. Bell Student Council attended a week long National Leadership Training Center at Texas Christian University. This workshop was sponsored by the National Association of Student Council and the National Association of Secondary School Principals. They also attended the National Association of Student Council Conference in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Kay Baker attended the International Leadership Training Cruise over the summer. She learned many techniques for bettering the Student Council's leadership abilities. The Student Council had sponsored many activities to boost school spirit. These activities included two after-game dances and the Homecoming Parade. Student Council also brought Mark Sharonbroch to speak to the student body, and sponsored community services, such as visits to nursing homes. The sponsors of Student Council were Mrs. Kay Baker and Mr. Ron Andres.

Art Club Honors Excellence

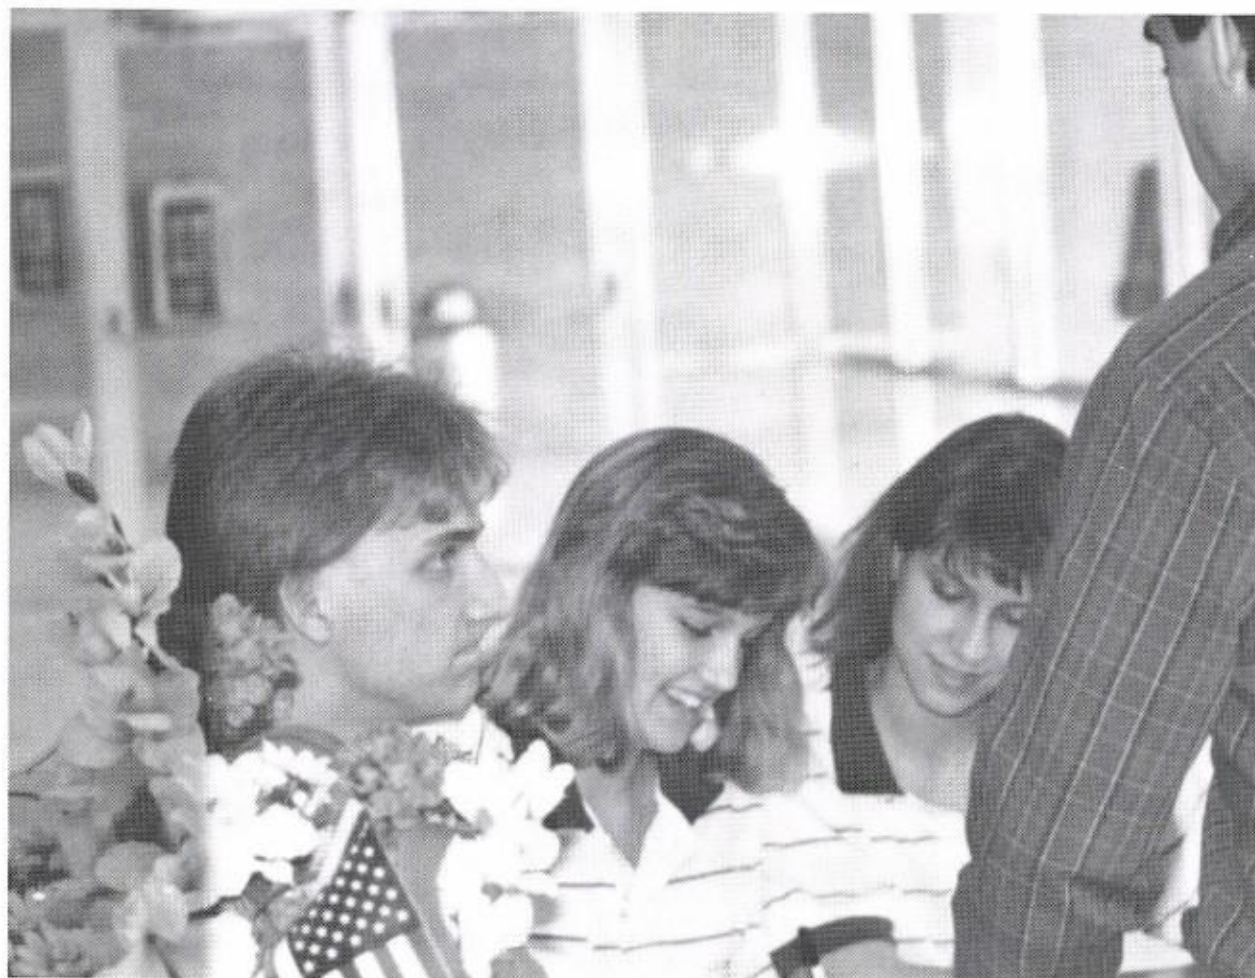

L.D. Bell's National Art Honor Society consists of active art students who are at least in their second year of the art program. Honor students excel in almost every aspect of art and are also involved in the regular art club. Sponsors are Mrs. Marilyn Ivey and Mrs. Jennifer Couch.

Raider Staff Sparks Imagination

It took many hours and a very imaginative Raider staff to produce the 1985-86 yearbook. The 1985-86 Raider Staff began the year early when it attended a workshop at Stephen F. Austin State University. The members learned many new journalism techniques including photography, copy writing, and layout planning. For the first time, a supplement will be available in the summer. This supplement will contain many of the spring activities such as Senior Prom and Graduation.

BLUEPRINT Sparks Pride

The BLUEPRINT members meet everyday during fifth period to put together a monthly newspaper. They give very accurate descriptions of what is going on at L.D. Bell High School. The advisor for BLUEPRINT is Sarah Wofford. The BLUEPRINT consists of things that students like to hear about; favorite movies, favorite records, what is in style and what is not. Much work and dedication goes into the production of this newspaper. All this work is done so that students can become better acquainted with their school and society.

Cheerleaders

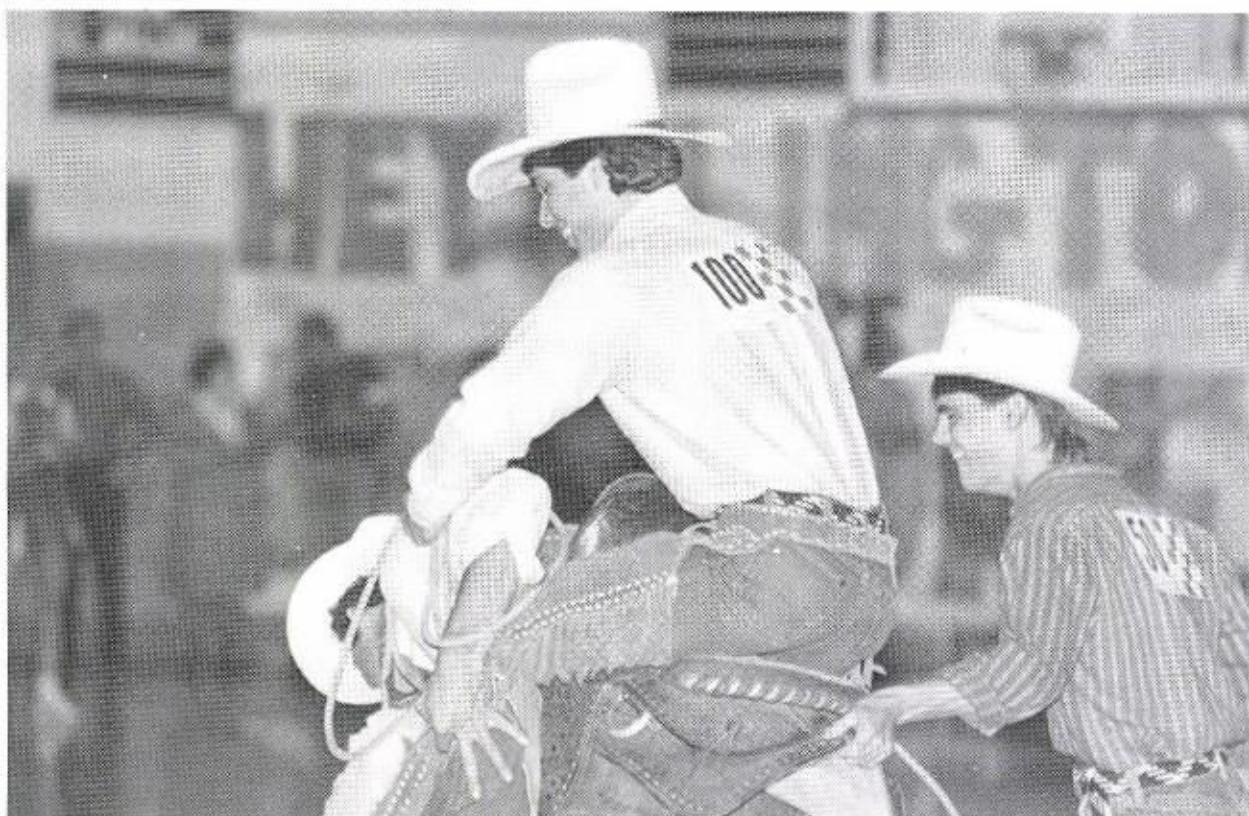

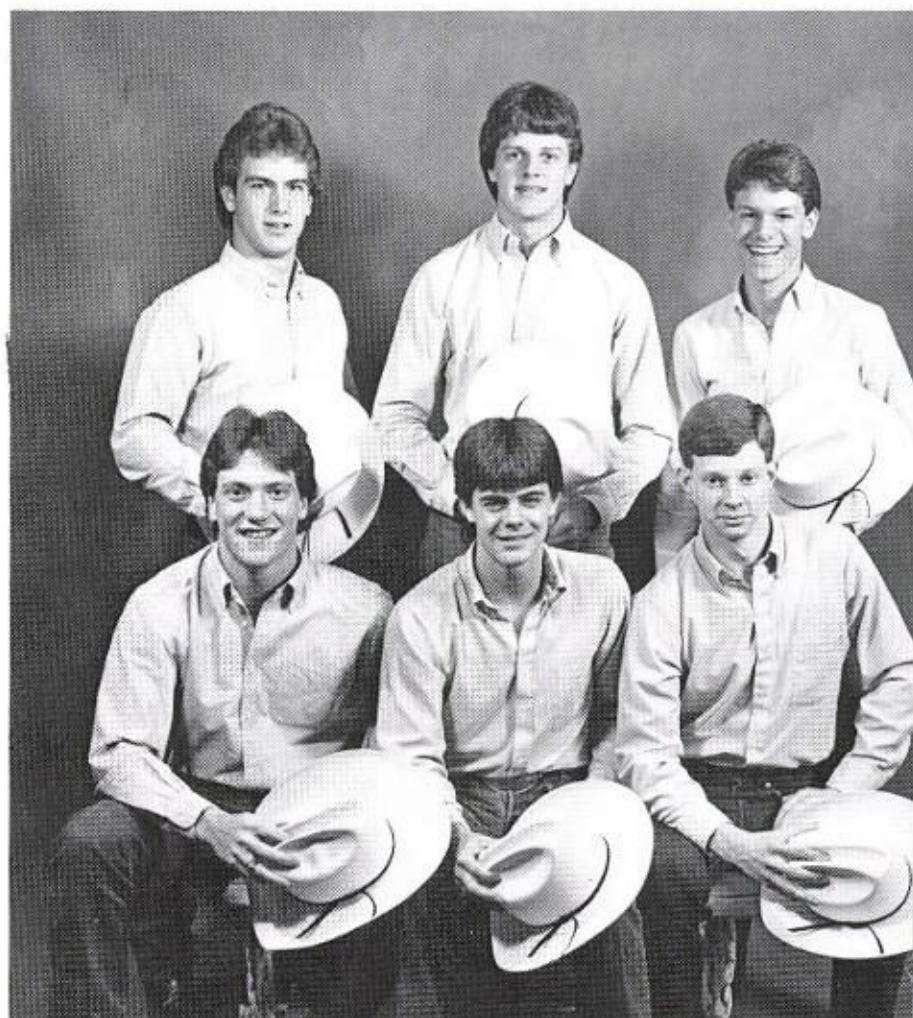

Under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Ann Brock, the cheerleaders serve as the main spirit motivators at our school. Serving as head cheerleader and squad leader is Leigh-Anna Spaulding. The other squad leaders are Melanie Jennings and Kari Henshaw. During the summer, the cheerleading squad received Best All-Around at T.A. and the Award of Excellence at the S.M.U. Summer Camp. In individual competition, Melanie Jennings and Kim Moore became All-American Cheerleader finalists and the whole squad qualified for national competition.

Wranglers

Motivating complete spirit is the main goal of the 1985-86 Bell Wranglers. They are able to bring out the spirit in students, and in the faculty as well, through their crazy antics displayed throughout the course of the pep rallies and games. The Wranglers perform their trademark dance, ring the school bell, and generally act out of sync under their sponsor Mr. Bob Cook.

Raiderette Energy Soars

Spirit, enthusiasm, and energy were all characteristics of the 1985 Raiderettes. They began the season early by attending summer camp at SMU. The girls came home with numerous spirit awards and many first place ribbons. As the school year progressed, so did the precision of the Raiderettes. As a result, they were awarded the National Half-Time Production Award at a drill team competition at UTA.

The Raiderettes also provided many memorable experiences for the student body. Each week they decorated each football player's lockers with candy, gifts, and victory messages. In addition, they performed at pep rallies and every football game. Throughout the season, the Raiderettes generated excitement for the fans and student body. They concluded their successful year with their annual Spring Show. The Raiderettes were under the direction of Mrs. Donna Paul.

Student Body Enjoyed Choirs

The Choral Department followed the tradition of excellence in entertainment. The first of three choirs was the Choralliers. Made up of Sophomores and some Juniors, they participated in contests and the Fall, Christmas, and Spring concerts. A Cappella is the top choir. Its' members are selected after auditions and sing harder songs. A Cappella also gets on a choir trip to Tennessee. An elite group of people from both choirs made up Bell System. They combined choreography and music to form delightful entertainment.

Band Is Electrifying

There was no other word to describe the 1985 Blue Raider Band except electrifying. The band generated energy and excitement at football games and pep rallies. It strived for perfection throughout the summer months, and eventually all of the work paid off. At UIL marching contests, the band earned a sweepstakes rating, and was given the honor to advance to regional contests, representing one of the top bands in the 5A district.

The constant energy lasted throughout the winter and spring seasons as well. The band performed at annual Christmas and spring concerts. In addition, it participated in UIL concert contests. The band enjoyed a very successful year under the direction of Mr. Dana Rothlisberger, Mrs. Sherry Miller, and Mr. Ernest Re-pass.

Hats Off To Bell Players

After beginning the year with a successful talent show, the Bell Players and Thespians continued the example of excellence that began last year. Behind the skillful leadership of Mr. Norval Sykes, the club tackled many fund raisers, bake sales, and plays. Their Fall play, "Of Mice and Men", was a success. Following close behind was "Plaza Suite", UIL One-Act play, "The Children's Hour"; and the musical, "The Fantasticks". Once again the club ended the year by sponsoring its own awards ceremony.

THESPIANS: FIRST ROW: Kevin Redmon, Duane Blobaum, Michelle Solis, David Fletcher, Arthur Martinez, Ray Jones. SECOND ROW: Karen Wismann, James Cintron, Colleen Christian, Lisa Perry, Margie Marshall, Holly Wells, Wendy Herndon. THIRD ROW: Melissa Teferthiller, Ivey Gilliland, Sean Hamilton, Stephanie Rallsback, Jason Bentley, Ray Cannon, Brett Spivey, Vanessa McCoy, Sara Richmond, Amy Copeland.

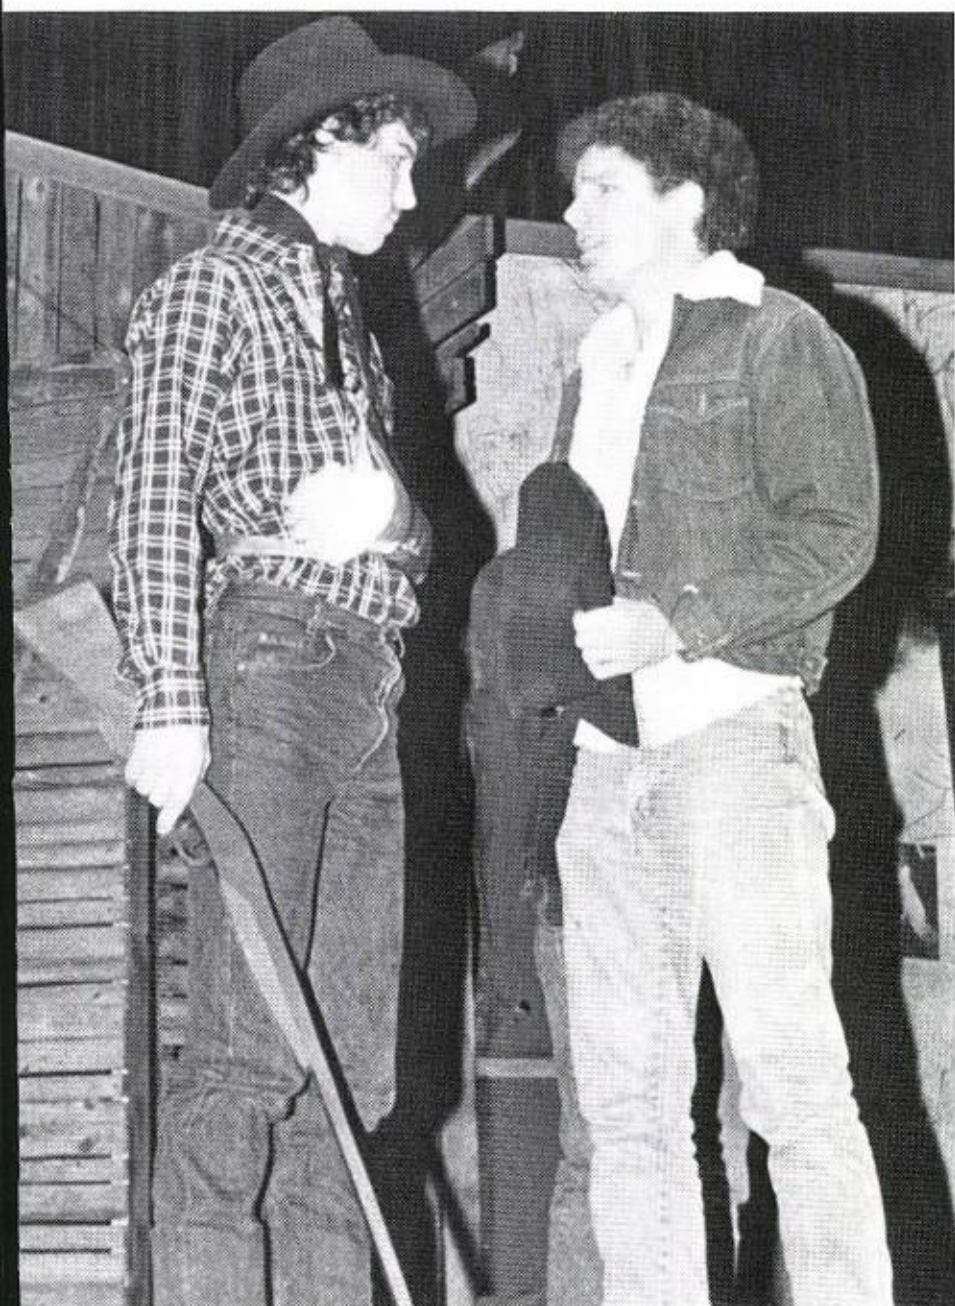

In this scene from "Of Mice and Men", Lennie (Richie Blevins) struggled and killed May (Vanessa McCoy).

Due to the tremendous amount of talent flowing into Bell, the number of Bell Players shot up to an astounding members. Displaying their talent and beauty, the club prepared for the bright lights of the stage.

George (Duane Blobaum) pleaded with Curley (David Victorine) not to hurt his best friend Lenny.

Instead of following the yellow brick road, Sandy McCann, Joli Kramer, Cara Mize, and Chris Neal followed the Bell Player float in the Homecoming Parade.

During the course of the year, the bell players provided a place for people to share old memories and create new ones. In the dressing room, Vanessa McCoy helped celebrate Holly Wells birthday.

During a crucial scene, "Crooks" (E. Fyfe) talks to "Lenny" (R. Blevins) and "Candy" (A. Martinez).

In the play, "Slim" (D. Fletcher) was a mule skinner who helped add a colorful background to "Lenny" and "George".

As a result of "Lenny's" actions, "May" (V. McCoy) is killed. "Carlson" (J. Williams) and extras (J. Cintron, S. Holcomb, and D. Drain) look on as "Slim" (D. Fletcher) checks her pulse.

Success Shown In Fall Play

As the cast filled with talent bowed, applause could be heard throughout the auditorium. In the lobby, could be heard words of praise and enjoyment from the audience; the Bell Players' fall production of "Of Mice and Men" was a success. The cast, diversified in many ways, came together to make all four performances a true success. The play centered around two ranch hands, Richie Blevins and Duane Blobaum, in their search for a perfect place to settle. Filled with the portrayal of emotions, the play was tough on the cast and made a lasting impression on the people who viewed it. The emotional strain felt onstage continued offstage as thoughts of the ending of friendships and the destruction of the detailed set entered the minds of all cast and crew. The time and effort put in by everyone involved provided memories not to be soon forgotten.

May (V. McCoy) tells of her dreams of being in pictures and wearing all them nice clothes.

In order to save Lenny (R. Blevins) from further torture and pain, George (D. Blobaum) prepares to shoot him.

Foreign Language Clubs

The Spanish Club is made up of students who wish to learn more about the Spanish culture. The members of Spanish Club are involved in many activities such as the Chili Cook-Off and the Spring Language Festival. They also participated in many social activities, such as Christmas Caroling and going to places of Mexican interest. The Spanish Dancers, led by Mrs. Copeland, actually acted out the cultures of Mexico. The Spanish Dancers performed at the Fall Chili Cook-Off and various other functions. Their many activities were supported by money raised by selling mirrors and picture frames to hang in lockers. The Spanish Club was sponsored by Mrs. Wieland, Mrs. Wortham, Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. Chandler, Miss Harrison, and Mrs. Chronister.

Demonstrate International Energy

The German Club is organized by Mrs. Mary Jane Harbison. Students who are taking German classes or simply interested in German culture make up this organization. German Club is raising enough money through fund-raising projects to give each of the twelve senior members of German Club a scholarship, the main goal of the German Club this year. One of the most enjoyable projects is the annual trip to Edeleweiss Restaurant and the Spring Language Festival. The German Club also planned many activities for Foreign Language Week.

French Club Generates Spirit

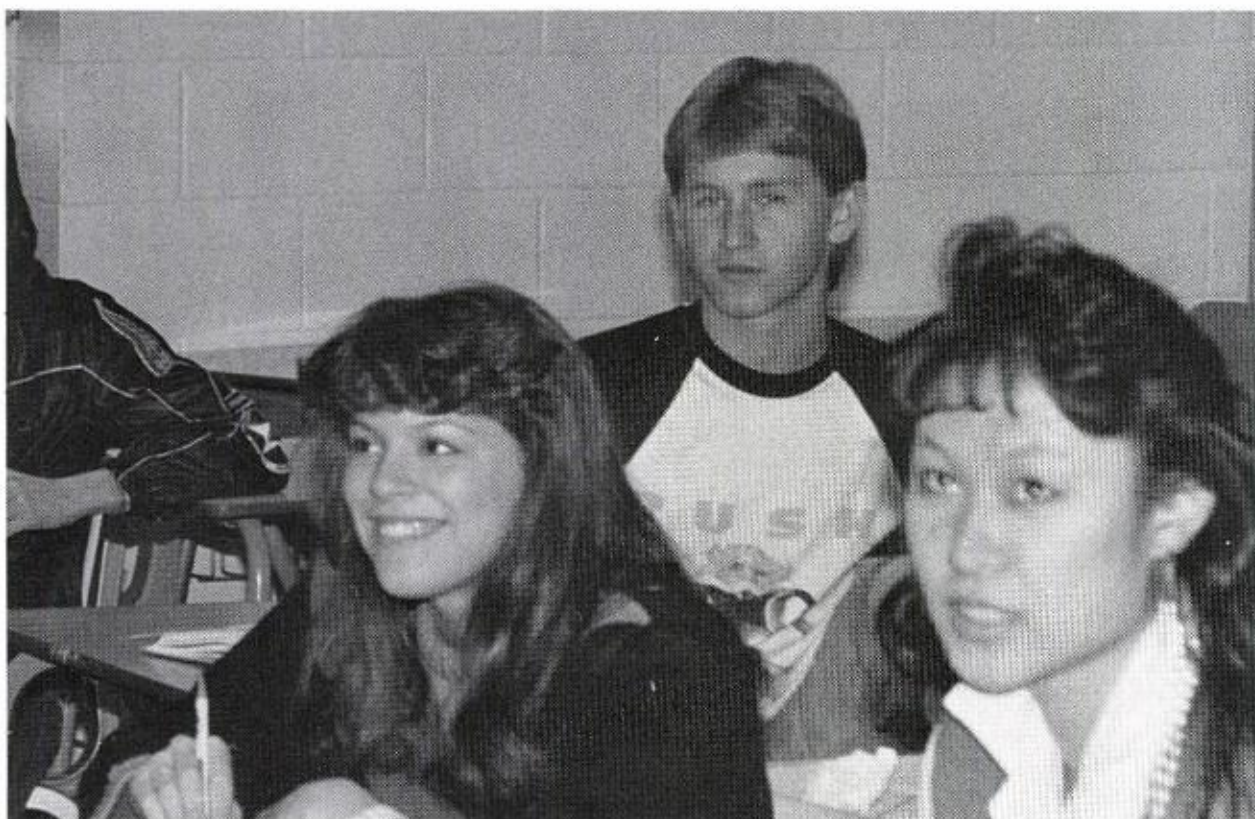

The French club is a very active and popular organization at L.D. Bell. They have sponsored many activities for the members. Some of these activities include a Progressive Dinner and a Mardi Gras celebration. The French Club also participated in the Homecoming Parade during the Fall. In addition, they entered a representative into the Most Handsome/Most Beautiful Pageant. The French Club representative, Beth Kennedy, was crowned the Most Beautiful Girl at L.D. Bell. She was escorted by David Deitchman. The French Club involvement in school activities is a perfect representation of the spirit found at L.D. Bell High School.

Latin Class Is Shockingly Fun

Although there was no Latin Club this year, the Latin class was still very popular with many students. Mrs. Sandra Carney was the only Latin teacher at L.D. Bell this year. This class not only gives the student a chance to learn another language, but it also gives the student a better understanding of the English language, since most of the English language derived from Latin.

Young Life

Young Life members meet on Monday nights to share in the energy of Christian fellowship. All Young Life groups from the area participate in the meetings directed by Jace Thompson. Meetings involve group fellowship, theme parties, and improvisational skits.

S. Pittard, K. West, C. Hutchins, M. Hackney, B. Knels, R. Harn, and R. Suman enjoy the meeting in sheets they stole from a preschooler.

F.C.A.

At Bell, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization that offers members new awareness and self confidence through the sharing of their different beliefs. Bible study, prayer, and group discussions that involve talking about everyday problems, are just some of the things that go on at different members' homes. Overall the main goal of F.C.A. is to encourage athletes to implement their Christian attitude during school, sports, and throughout their daily lives.

At an F.C.A. meeting, members pause for a moment of Bible study.

Art Club Expresses Itself In A Unique Form

Art Club is a special club made up of interested, talented art students. They were involved in several on-campus activities including their stuffed animal sale, and the Homecoming parade. At meetings, Art Club was often entertained by learning a new artistic talent, or listening to a guest speaker. Students also had a special party where each member was asked to dress like their favorite artists. The Art Club was under the leadership of Mrs. Marilyn Ivy.

Curls Create Coifs

Cosmetology, the choice of the new generation. Beauty was no longer in the eye of the beholder, it became an obsession across the nation. Everyone wanted to look good, but very few knew how. So in response to the demand for professional beauticians, many young women signed up for a class in Cosmetology. Cosmetology taught them to cut and style hair as well as do manicures and suggest make-up colors. The behind-the-scenes heroes were those able volunteers who, for the sake of education, sacrificed their appearances. Based in the career center, the Cosmetology class attempted to educate its students through hard work and experience.

Amateurs Turned Pro

Many valuable working skills were gained by students taking classes in Electronics and Auto Mechanics at the Career Center. Electronics taught the students everything about building or fixing an electrical appliance. On the other side of the Center, students were taught the skills essential in fixing a car. Both these subjects and a common link. Though different in many ways, they both produced many well rounded people. Many of these students were amateurs to the skills, but at the end of the year they were all pros.

Skills Taught By Vocational

On-the-job training is a phrase that accurately describes the function of the Career Center. The center provides courses in all areas. Two of these classes include Building Trades and Auto Paint and Body. Building Trades was taught by Mr. Roy Bobo. It taught students how to use wood and other raw materials and make something useful for everyday living. Mr. Darr Yandell's class, Auto Paint and Body, taught the skill of automobile repair and painting. Both introduced new skills and in time turned out people who had mastered it.

While S. Stinson, B. Thomas, J. Buresh, and S. Garrison watched, Mr. Bobo demonstrated the correct way to use a router.

Vocational Office Education

V.O.E. is a program which trains students interested in an office career. Students were taught important skills, such as typing, taking dictation, filing, and writing business letters. In addition to academic study, V.O.E. students worked in an office atmosphere after school. After graduation, the important skills learned could be transferred to almost any career. V.O.E. was sponsored by Mrs. Ward.

Future Homemakers Of America

Future Homemakers of America is an organization open to any student involved in home-making related classes. FHA participated in on-campus activities as well as special community projects. Members held a week devoted to FHA activities, and at the end of the week, they planted rose bushes in the courtyard. FHA also took part in the Homecoming activities by dressing up as clowns to entertain people of all ages. In addition to on campus projects, Future Homemakers sponsored a special day for children to be fingerprinted and photographed. The group was sponsored by Miss. Romona Riley.

Home Economics Cooperative Education

H.E.C.E. is a vocational club that allows students to be involved in the community as well as the job field. In the job field the students worked at various places such as restaurants and retail stores. They became aware of the importance in a career involved in home economics. H.E.C.E. studied clothing and textiles, food and nutrition, and home management. They were under the direction of Mrs. JoAnne Bauer.

Cable 28

Wired For Energy

Cable 28 is the television production station used by the entire H.E.B. school district. Throughout the year, TV students were seen at numerous school functions. They covered all aspects of school activities such as football, volleyball and drama. Their station was used as a public service outlet and covered all District events. Cable 28 through its concern for public awareness provided a great service for all.

"Air Edwards"

The Raiders started the season against a long-time non-district rival, the Richland Rebels. Although Richland was predicted to win, all that changed as the Raiders unleashed an aerial attack that completely decimated the Rebels. Coach Tim "Air" Edwards navigated the attack which was piloted by Mark Maddox, who completed 11-of-17 passes for 254 yards. Maddox's two favorite targets, Jay Franz (who caught six passes for 127 yards) and Wes Montgomery (three catches for 75 yards), helped put away the Rebels. When the skies had cleared, the Raiders had won, 31-7.

Still fired up from the previous week's victory over Richland, the Raiders took to the field to battle the Nimitz Vikings. The Raiders jumped to an early 7-0 lead after recovering a fumble on the Viking 18. The team then moved the ball late in the third on a one-play, 42 yard drive in which Maddox threw to Jay Franz for a touchdown, making the score 14-0 after Chris Sadlo kicked the extra point. The Raider defense managed to hold off the Vikings until late in the fourth quarter when Nimitz scored its only touchdown and when the final gun sounded, the score was 14-7, L.D. Bell.

Raiders Enter 5A-7 Undefeated

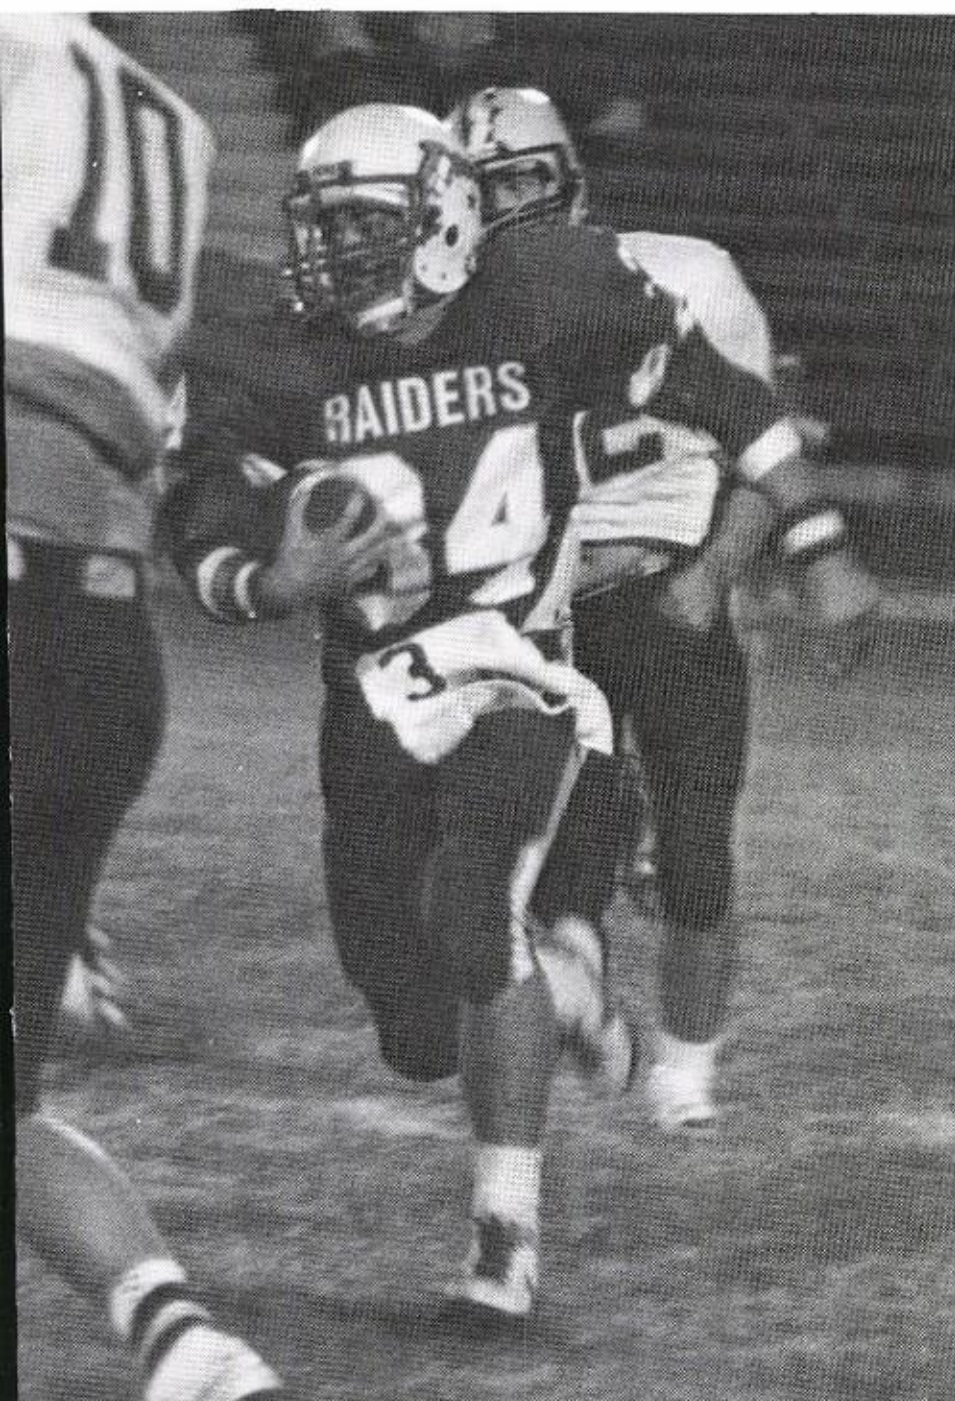

The Raiders entered the third game of the season with a 2-0 record, ready to play the winless Haltom Buffalos. The Raiders' offense overpowered the Buffs while the Raider defense held Haltom to only 173 total yards. Except for a touchdown in the second quarter, the Bell defense virtually shut-down the Buffalos. Led by Scott Mahanay and Rick Saunders, the Raiders kept Haltom from the goal line. The Raiders' offense, led by Mark Maddox and Jamie Gill, combined for 211 yards passing and two touchdowns, and when the clock ran out Bell had won 27-6.

Bell opened 5A-7 district play with a 24-3 victory over rival Sam Houston. The Raiders' brilliant effort put a damper on the Texans' homecoming celebration, as Bell scored on a Chris Sadlo kick and three touchdowns and held Sam Houston to only a field goal. Sam Houston defeated Bell last year, but the Raiders took advantage of four fumbles, a blocked punt, and long scoring drives to defeat the defending district champions.

Bell Defense Halts Opponents

The L. D. Bell Blue Raiders, remembering a 24-14 defeat suffered to Arlington last year, soundly defeated the Colts in the second district game of the year. Arlington boasted the third best defense in the area coming into the game but the Raider passing attack and ground game produced three touchdowns and set up a field goal, while the defense held the Colts to only 16 points. The victory gave the Blue Raiders a 5-0 record as they remained the districts' only unbeaten team.

The Bell Blue Raiders remained undefeated as they beat Lamar, 22-7, in their third district game. Bell wasted little time in scoring, driving 67 yards in four plays in its opening series, and quickly set the pace. The victory lifted the Raiders' record to 6-0, as the Vikings fell to 2-4. Bell dominated most of the game, although the Lamar defense kept the Vikes in the game until the final quarter. Two late scoring drives by Lamar threatened but the Raiders countered with interceptions and clinched the game for Bell.

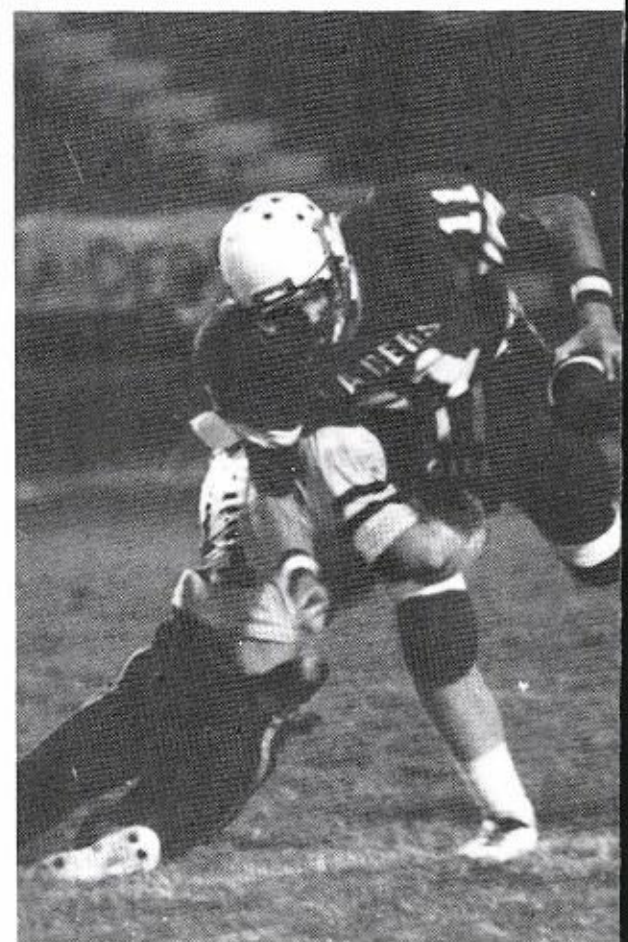

Homecoming Opponent Proves Challenging

The Martin Warriors were hoping for a mud bath as they prepared to take on the district-leading Blue Raiders in the rain. L.D. Bell, however, trounced the Warriors in a wet battle, 34-6, and remained on top in District 5A-7. The rain didn't stop Bell's excellent passing game; the Raiders connected to Wes Montgomery for fifty-one and fifty-nine yard touchdown passes, and gained 214 passing yards. Bryan Delbridge and Brad Myers scored on short runs, and Chris Sadlo kicked four extra points and two field goals. The Raiders held Martin to only one touchdown, and held their offense to a mere 174 yards.

Bell supposed that their homecoming game against the Jesuit Rangers would be an easy one, but it turned out that they underestimated their opponent and in the end, it was a strong defense and a desire to stay undefeated that carried Bell to a 14-7 victory. The Raider passing game was excellent, but five turnovers kept Bell from breaking the game open. A strong defensive stand in the fourth quarter preserved the win, and Bell's record was boosted to 8 - 0.

Raiders Pound Burleson Elks

Bell's 35-7 victory over the Burleson Elks assured Bell of a playoff berth, and gave them confidence for the ground game that had not been effective earlier in the season. All five of Bell's touchdowns were running plays: halfback Bryan Delbridge and flanker Wes Montgomery scored two each; and Brian Terry scored on a one-yard run. The Raiders picked up 304 rushing yards and passed for 89 more. The Elks came out passing and played a good game, but Bell's defense only allowed one touchdown. The Blue Raiders stayed undefeated with the win and brought their district record to 5-0, with only one game remaining against rival Trinity High School.

Dreams Of Undeclared Season Shattered

L. D. Bell entered the Bell-Trinity game at Texas Stadium with a 9-0 record and assurance of at least one playoff game and a District 5A-7 co-championship. The Trinity Trojans needed to defeat Bell to assure themselves of post-season play and defeat them they did, 21-6. The Raiders great talent and determination was not enough to beat the Trojans, but Bell put up a great fight and showed tremendous character in the loss. A scoring drive by Trinity late in the fourth quarter that produced a touchdown ended Bell's hopes of an undefeated season and an outright district championship. Bell had a chance to come back but failed to convert on a fourth-and-one play on their own thirty yard line and on the next play, Billy Odell put the game out of reach with his 30-yard touchdown run. The energy felt on the field and among the spectators, along with the great playing of the athletes produced an exciting game; one that players and fans would never forget.

Heartbreaking Loss Ends Year

L.D. Bell, reflecting back on the previous week's loss to Trinity, knew that they would have to play better as a team and make fewer mistakes in order to beat District 5A-8 champion, Grand Prairie High School, in their first state playoff game. The Raiders played much better against the Gophers and led Grand Prairie by 8 points at the half, but two Gopher touchdowns in the fourth quarter were too much for Bell. With the score 20-14 and two seconds left in the game, Bell trailing, a 2-yard would-be touchdown pass to Wes Montgomery was batted away by a Grand Prairie defender, and hopes of state-final playoff bid were shattered. Bell's record stood at 9-2, a great improvement from the previous year's 3-6-1 record, and the Raiders could only look toward next year and carrying on Bell's winning tradition.

The Junior Varsity football team, coached by Paul Smith, learned that it would take long hours of practice and tremendous dedication to prepare themselves for the season. The J.V. team worked out with the varsity during the summer and, like the varsity, often stayed at school well after dark. With this kind of dedication, there was no doubt that the 1985-86 J.V. football team will carry on the proud tradition of Raider excellence on next year's varsity team.

Sophomore Football

The 1985-1986 Sophomore football team, composed of players from Bedford, Hurst and part of Harwood and Central junior highs, showed that even though they may have come from rival schools, there were no rivalries when they suited up as Bell Blue Raiders. The sophomores played a tough season that finally culminated with a defeat of the undefeated Trinity Trojans J.V. team. Unquenchable Pride

Inner spirit kept the Raider Volleyball team united. Unity came from hard work, sweat and long practices spent improving their playing skills; however, no amount of practice could have built the team's unquenchable pride. Their pride came from within, becoming more evident each time they stepped onto the court. During the last game of the season, the girls' driving spirit was especially apparent when they defeated Trinity 17-15, 14-16, 15-11.

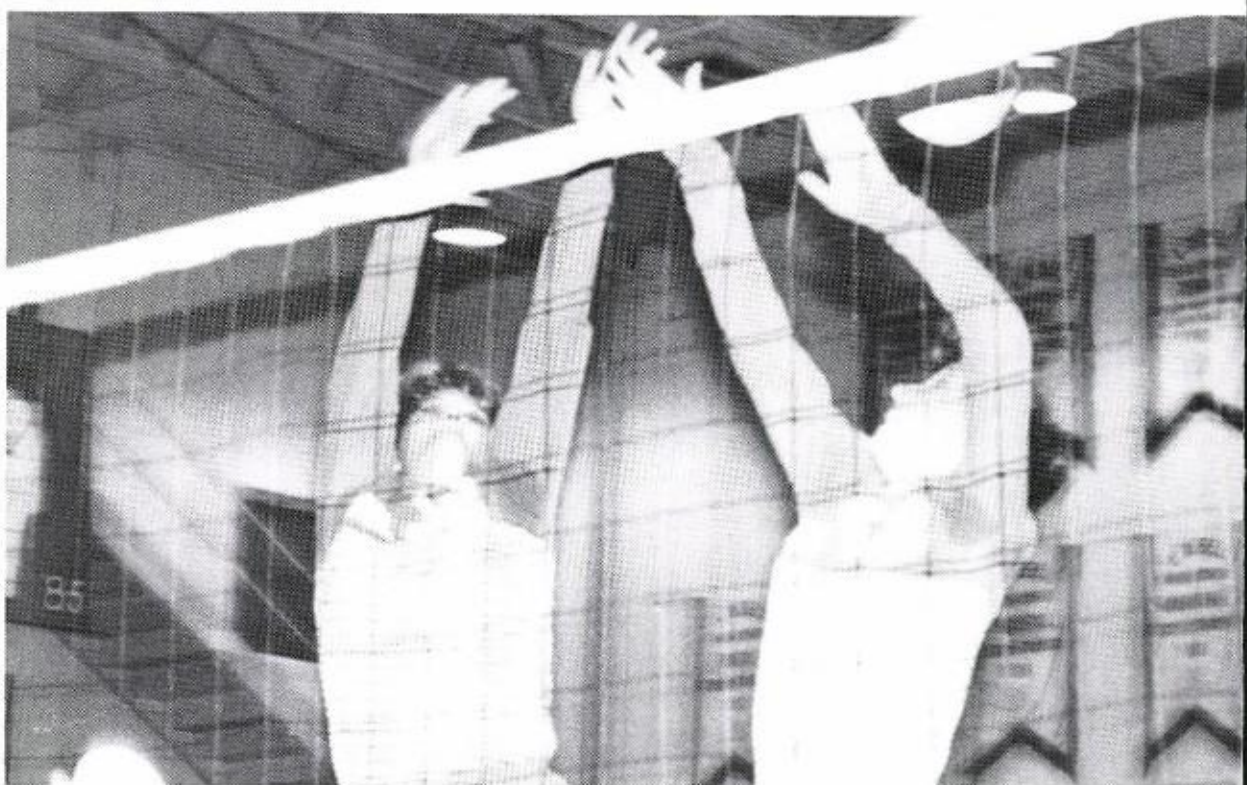

Team members continually encouraged each other during games; on game days they met before school at Coach Vickie Griffin's home to "psych up". Having a team consisting of five seniors, two juniors, and three sophomores contributed to the inexperience that was more than made up for in guts.

Girls Focus Energy On Teamwork

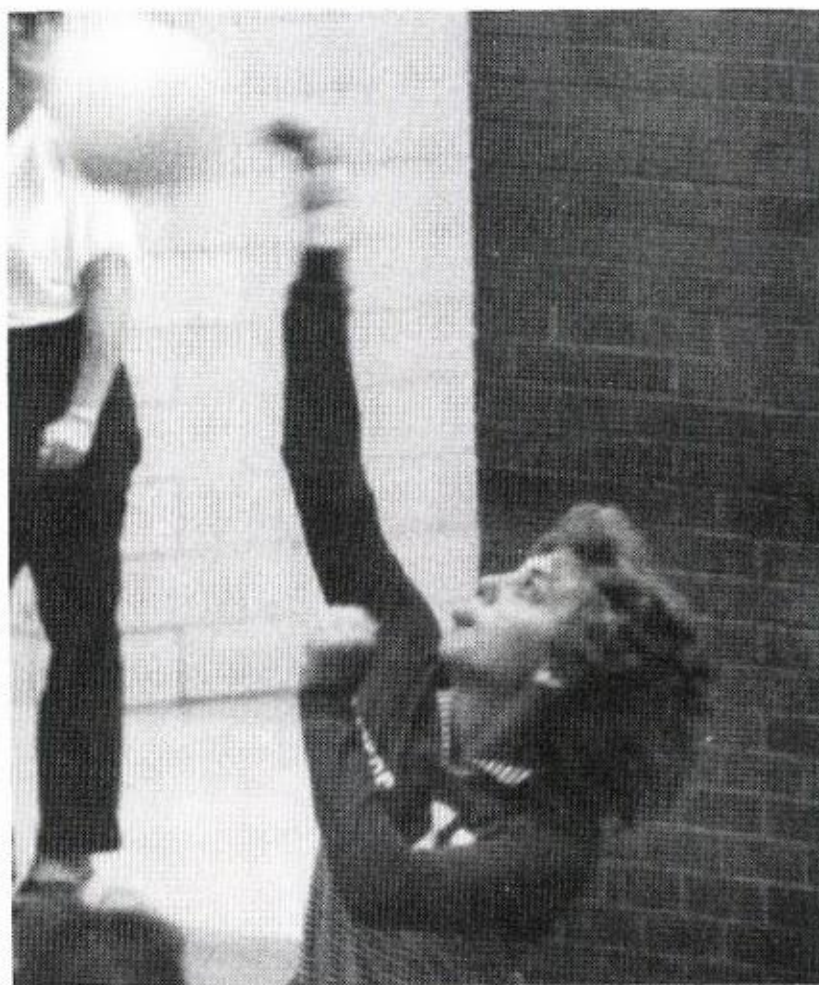

Raider volleyball started even before the doors to the 1985-86 school year were opened. Two-a-day workouts began in mid-August, in which the girls practiced and perfected their skills for the upcoming season. From the beginning, they realized the district competition would be stiff. If success was to be reached, the girls knew it must be as a team. No superstars appeared on the team; instead a group of hard working, dedicated team members played to win. Firmly believed by the volleyball girls and their coach, Vicki Griffin, was that one individual cannot make or break a team. Working together many hours, members of the team became close friends which made teamwork easier to attain.

Raider Spirit Energizes The JV

Slightly nervous as Sophomores, the Junior Varsity Volleyball team strove to represent Bell in the traditional Raider fashion. Practicing with the Varsity each morning, the girls gained experience and dedicated themselves to becoming the best team they could be. The girls knew they were in a tough district, but still gave each game one hundred percent. Coached by Linda Jolly, the girls developed into a team that was devoted to winning. Knowing inexperience was a problem, the girls learned techniques and drills that helped them in game situations. Though the team did not place in district standings, the girls felt they learned what they would need for next year to take them to the top. For their first year of high school play, the girls did an excellent job upholding the spirit of energy felt at L.D. Bell.

Season A Success In Spite Of Shortcomings

Hard work and determination paid off for the L.D. Bell varsity basketball team as they raced to a respectable third place district finish. Led by junior Courtney Jeans and senior Bobby Kneis, the Raiders fought hard for a playoff spot but just fell short of that goal, as they posted an 19-11 record in a close district race. The team's efforts were admired by students, faculty and the Raider opponents and the season was a successful one, even though the team wanted a playoff spot badly. All year the Raiders played together as a team and when Coach Ray Debord saw his team faltering some during the middle of the season, he strategically moved sophomore Joe Johnson up from junior varsity to start on varsity and score needed points.

Lady Cagers Undefeated

District 5A-7 title was captured by the girls Varsity basketball team, who earned it with a district record of 12-0. A record such as this was achieved through hard playing, constant ballplayers working together as a team. Individually, each team member had talent, but together the team effort magnified the team's overall talent.

At the beginning of the season, none of the team members felt they would go undefeated in the district race; they did know of their potential though. As the season progressed so did the team's confidence and performance. The turning point of the season, when the team began to work as a unit, was with their victory over Sam Houston. Later in the season these two rival teams met twice more, both times Bell came out on top. Especially exemplifying the team's drive to win, the girls knew that they won the district title two games shy of the end of the season. Still they continued on to win their next two games and finish undefeated.

JV Records Winning Season

The junior varsity basketball team enjoyed a successful season and gave players who hope to play varsity basketball in the future an opportunity to improve their skills against players from other schools who have similar ambitions. The JV team, composed of a few juniors and many outstanding sophomores, was led by Joe Johnson until he was moved up to varsity. The team relied heavily on Scott Paul and Dwayne Deguire after he was promoted. The Raiders made excellent showings in tournaments and in district competition; and they showed the energy that propelled Raider teams all year long.

Unity

Though all the teams at Bell did well this year, few could boast 11-1 district and 18-2 overall records. The girls J.V. Basketball team had just that record. Practice began early in the school year for the girls, who in traditional Raider fashion, went on to become district champs. Though the J.V. played second fiddle to the varsity, the team gave each game one hundred and ten percent. During the season the girls clinched first place in the Birdville and North Garland tournaments. With the young talent shown on this J.V. team, there will be no stopping these girls on varsity next year.

Blue Raider Cross-Country

Carrying momentum from a previous successful season, the Bell Blue Raider cross-country team made excellent showings at early season meets and ended up with a third place in the District 7-AAAAA meet. Coached by Steve Stewart and led by returning letterman Scott Proctor and newcomer Chris Carey, the Raiders made fine showings at all meets and once again proved to non-believers that they were a team to be reckoned with. All-district Scott Proctor was the district champion and Carey placed a respectable fourth in the district meet.

How would you like to start off each morning running 5 to 6 miles? That is the kind of dedication our girls cross country team had this year. Running two hours each morning before school, the girls practiced hard and kept improving their times which made them competitors in their tough district. The Raiders, however, were not only competitors, they were winners.

Through the Senior leadership of Julie McMurray and Delynn Dolan, the girls progressed from an average to an outstanding team. After running in several meets, it was apparent that the team was shooting for the district title. Stacey Waggoner, a Junior and the top runner, placed second in the district meet and helped to place her team in an overall second place district finish. In regional competition, Stacey placed an excellent nineteenth. Great progress was also seen in the other Junior, Teri Rule, who placed higher at every meet. Amy Schoening and Heather Richardson, apprehensive as Sophomores, developed their skills and finished with better times at each consecutive meet. Placing fourth at district in the Varsity competition, Amy Schoening defied her Sophomore status. Encompassed in the girls cross country team was a true spirit of the Raider winning tradition.

Stacey Waggoner places second in the district meet.

Raider Wrestling

Led by Coach Ken Cooper, the L. D. Bell Wrestling team hit the ring. The team members practiced long hours at school and at home to be ready to face opposing teams. All members fought hard to make it to the district meet, in which the Raiders beat the wrestlers from Trinity handily. Through out the season, the Raiders competed tough against all of their opponents.

Perserverance Pays Off

The L.D. Bell varsity soccer team enjoyed a very successful season, even though it appeared to be doomed for failure three months before the season was even underway. Coach Paul Smith dismissed eight of Bell's projected eleven varsity starters because of their participation in club-soccer, a violation of University Interscholastic League rules. The team, however, ended up with a 7 - 5 record and a second place in district competition. The Raiders advanced to the playoffs with a dominating victory over Grapevine, 3-1, but were defeated in their first playoff game against Arlington. The Blue Raiders showed their courage and spirit as they turned a dismal-looking season into a successful one. The junior varsity team showed perserverance also as it ended the season with 4 wins and 2 losses.

Champs

Continuing a tradition of winning begun last year at Bell, the Raider girls soccer team won the district 7-AAAAA competition. The second year for the team was also the second year for its coach, Maria Davis.

Leadership was provided by the two seniors and five juniors returning. Having a season's experience playing together, the main task of coordinating each others' movements was expedited. Being able to work together enabled the team to capture game after game.

Varsity Tennis

The 1985-86 L. D. Bell tennis team hit the courts ready to go to district. Under the coaching of Moses Ruiz, the team learned tournament playing techniques and how to stay cool under the pressure of a big match. The players worked hard on their games when the weather was nice, and stayed inside to lift weights when it rained outside. With all of the dedication shown by the players, it is easy to understand why they bring home victories time after time.

Laying It On The Line

"Starting the spring season with a defeat over Keller and Denton in a tri-meet, the L.D. Bell tennis team continued it's improved play. The team's play was aided by valuable experience gained in the fall," said the coach of the Raider tennis team, Moses Ruiz. The 1985-1986 girls' varsity tennis team consisted of both experienced Seniors and young talented Juniors and Sophomores. The girls pushed themselves hard in practice each day. The effort payed off when the team took first in a number of their tournaments.

Raider Golfers

Led on the golf course by Coach Curtis Moore, the 1985-86 Raider Golf Team started the season. To make the team a player must have an average score of 85 or lower. The players worked hard everyday to maintain this average to stay on the team. Taught the basics of golf from Coach Moore, the players were able to polish and sharpen their skills that made them winners.

Determination

With one returning senior, it might seem that the L. D. Bell girls' golf team faced deterioration. Determination never left their coach, Curtis Moore, and another golfer became part of the team. Hardships resulting from having only two golfers did not hold the girls back. They competed as individuals in the many tournaments they entered.

JV And Varsity Track Team

As they started workouts in January, the goal of the L. D. Bell track team was to place as many people as it could in the district meet in April, and hopefully qualify some athletes for the regional meet. The Raiders made an excellent showing in a dual meet against Richland early in the season and also qualified several people for the high school division of the Southwest Conference Indoor Meet. These excellent showings in early season meets showed their competition that the Raiders were contenders for the district title and were a team to be dealt with.

Dedication

Dedication perfectly describes the 1986 girls varsity track team. Even through the bitter cold months of winter the girls work long and hard, sometimes as late as 5:30 in the evening. In their first practice meet against Richland, the Raiders defeated the Rebels in almost every event. Coach Linda Jolley greatly admired the girls because she felt each individual wanted to do her best to help the team. The team as a whole possessed great talent but this fact made them work even harder to become the best.

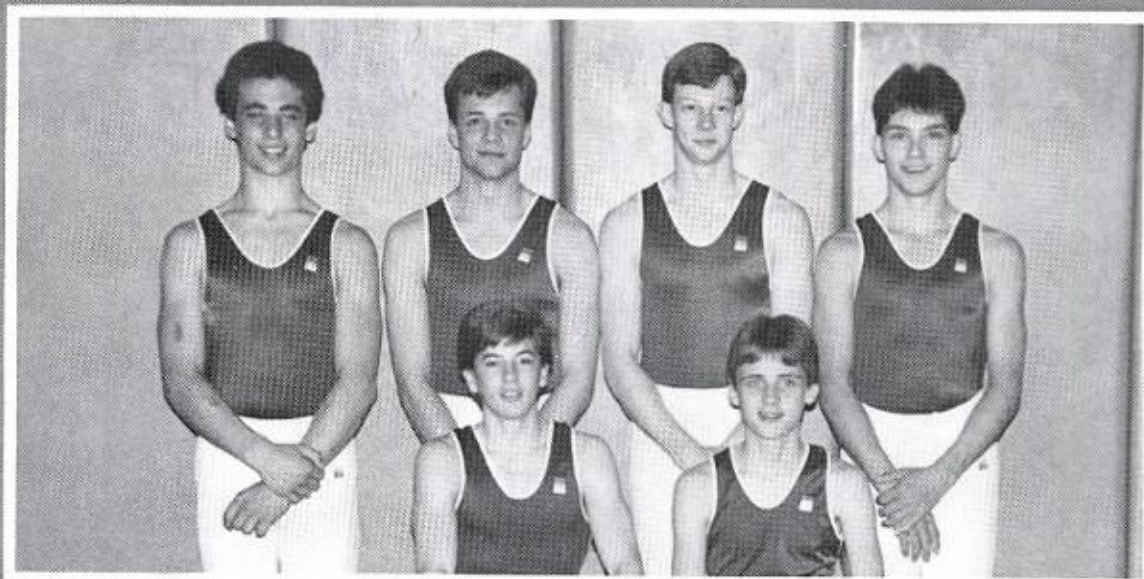

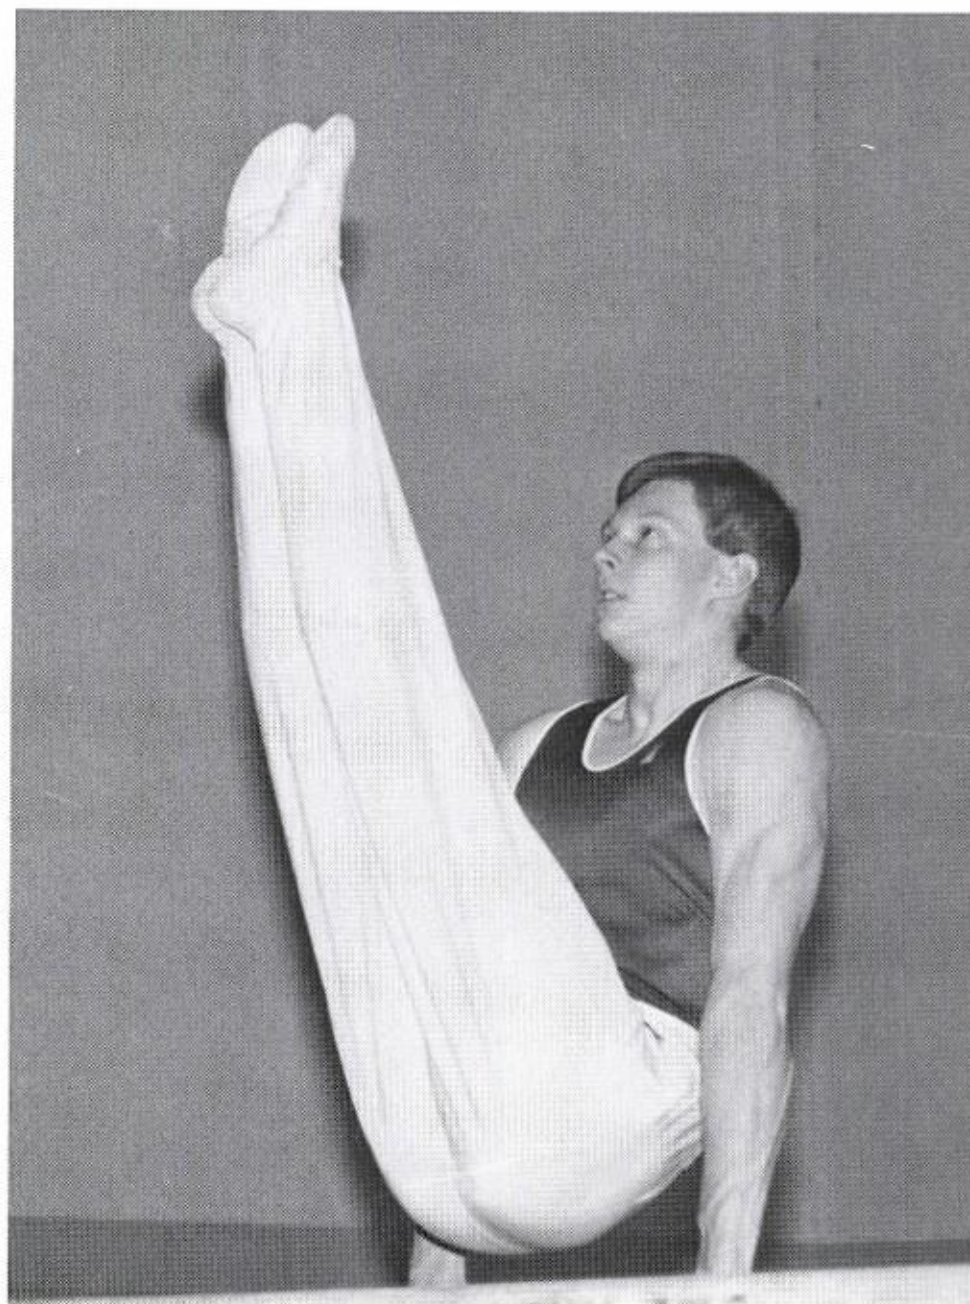

Raiders laugh to relieve tension.

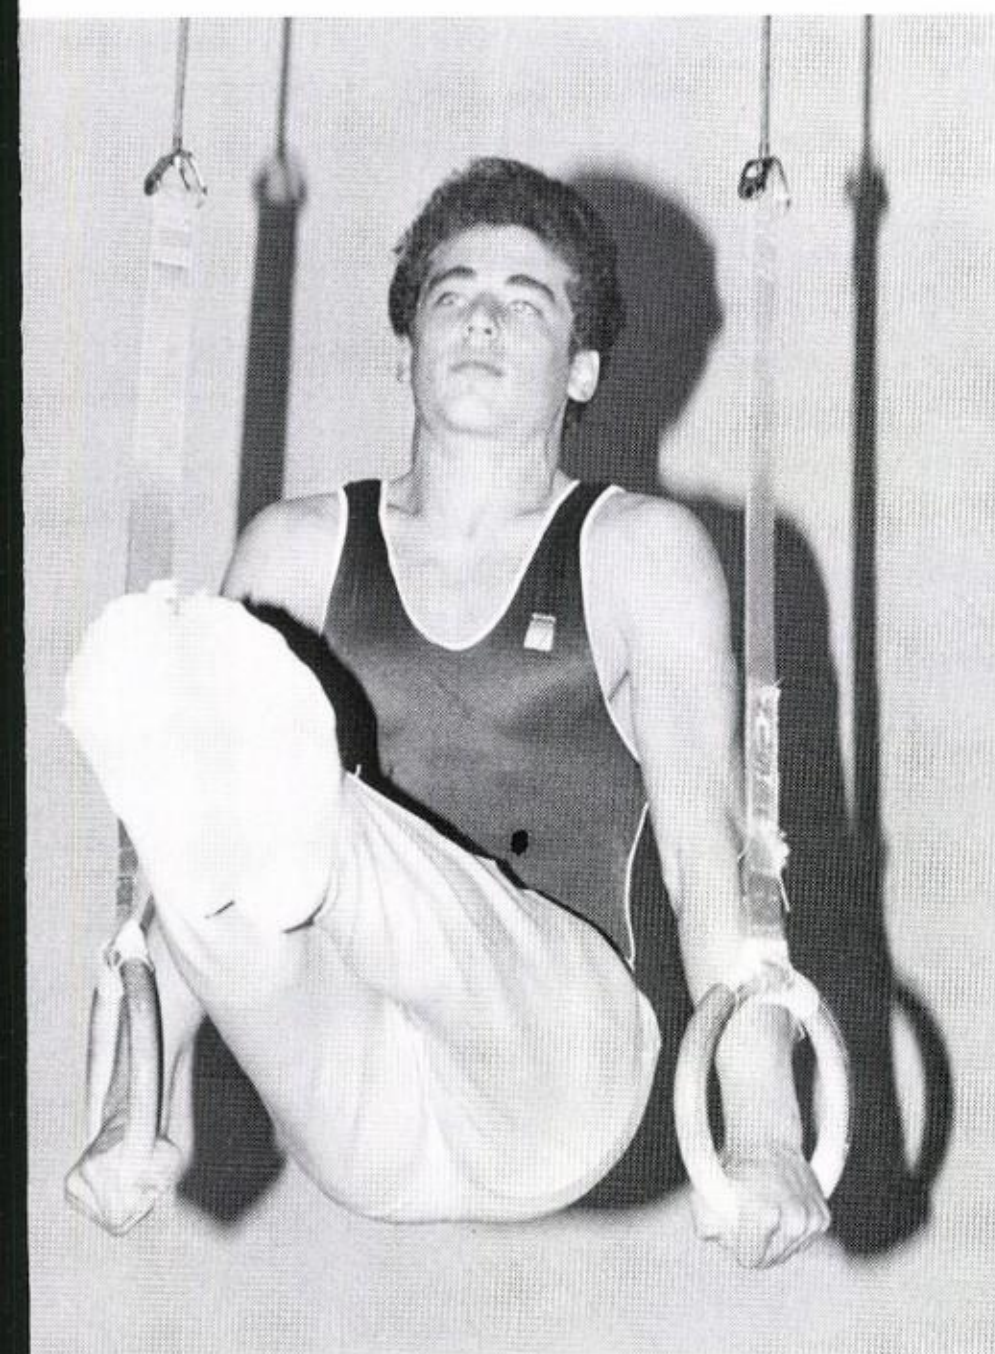

Boys Gymnastics

With the backing of Coach Emil Milan and a lot of hard work, the Raider gymnastic team started the season to uphold its winning tradition. Through a great deal of hard work and hours of practice, the Raiders easily rolled over many of their opponents. With this success, the Raiders were able to keep L. D. Bell number one.

Gymnastics

Gymnastics has continually performed in the Raider tradition, winning. Coached by Mrs. Debbie Bellard, the girls sweated and strained to gain excellence and to perfect their moves. Each of the girls returning to the varsity team worked to improve their individual performances as well as helping the less experienced team members. The dedication of the team members was shown in the many hours spent at practice. Their hard work paid off as they went on to triumph over their competitors.

Varsity Baseball

Scrimmages and long practices improved efforts of the Raider varsity baseball team as it started the season and set its sights on the long district battle that hopefully would produce a Raider championship. The Raiders looked promising with four returning starters, but they knew that they needed to improve pitching and to be consistent hitters to be contenders. Even though the Raiders were never a factor in the 7-AAAAA race in 1985, Coach Mickey Nix said that he planned to get off to a fast start and hold on in 1986. "We can play with the best if we get solid pitching and consistent hitting," Nix said. "I'm excited about the season."

BOVE: Rigorous training improved performance.

J. V. Baseball

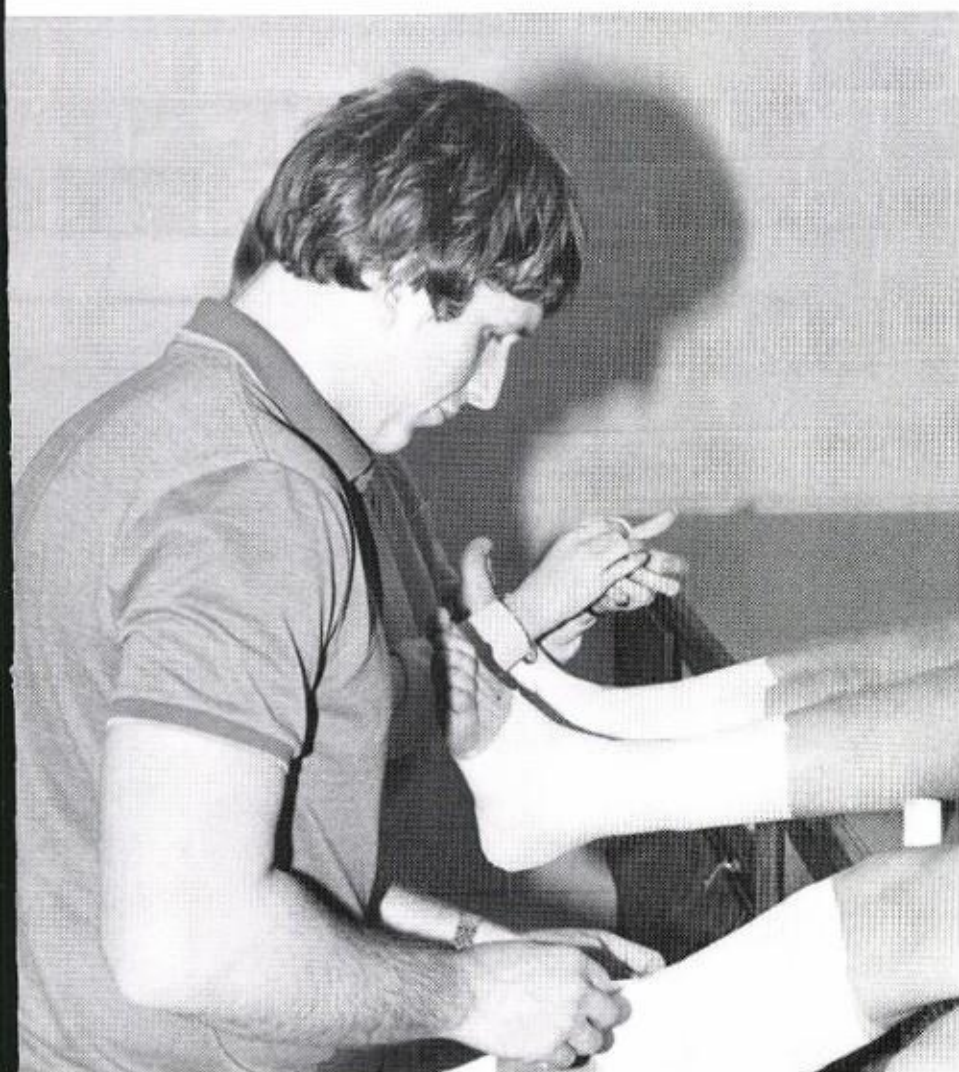

The junior varsity baseball team, like the varsity players, worked on reliable pitching and consistent hitting in preseason to improve performances for district play. Players had a little over a month to get ready for their first game, and scrimmages, team meetings, and practices proved important in preparation for the season of district games and enduring double-headers. Every aspect of the game was stressed, and hard work was worthwhile as players gained a feeling of satisfaction about their play and learned how to handle victory as well as defeat.

Scott Burk wraps a strained muscle.

An athlete falls, the pain he feels shows plainly on his face. He wonders what has happened to him and if he will be able to play anymore. Thankfully, a trainer appears before him and at once his fears begin to subside. The athlete knows that in the patient, caring hands of his trainer, everything will be alright.

The Raider trainers were the unsung heroes of Bell High this year. Attending every game and athletic event, they helped to ensure the physical and sometimes mental health of the athletes. With an average of a mere 35 miles of tape, the trainers taped everything from bruises, cuts, strains, pulls, and breaks. They also came in early each morning and left late each day, making sure each injured player had received his proper treatment. The trainers not only tried to prevent an injury from occurring, they nursed the player back to his competitive state. In the athletes' eyes, the well-qualified trainers took great care of them and the athletes largely appreciated the trainers efforts. Caring for every athlete in the entire school was a tough job but the trainers handled it with

Classes

The Senior Class Council promoted projects to raise money for class activities. Some projects were selling candy during November, and sponsoring an after-game dance, to raise money for the Senior Follies and the Senior Prom. The council's main project was to decide on the hotel, motto, class song, and the class flower for the Prom.

Seniors Make One Last Trek

As August drew near one could imagine the inaudible groans coming from students who were not quite ready to return to school. As the seniors came back the excitement was seen in their eyes as they thought about May 1986. Seniors were disappointed to find out they they could not choose their teachers for their last year of high school. Excitement was shown as Seniors realized that they could go out to lunch — legally. There was mass confusion as over 2,000 students attempted to register in two days. For those who could not make it, there was late registration. Many of those who registered late were distressed to find out that most electives were filled.

Wrangler Humor Helps Sophomores

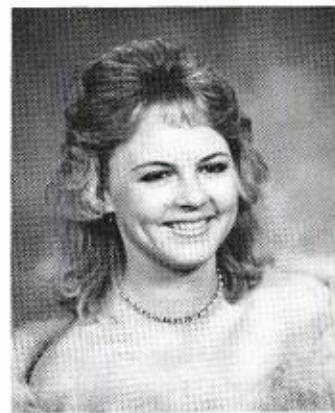

Sponsored by Mr. Bob Cook, the Wranglers were an important part of each activity at L. D. Bell. They were a definite spirit booster at pep rallies, adding excitement to the already energetic student body. Dressed as nerds for the first pep rally, the Wranglers added humor to the newly ignited spirit of the students. For the sophomores, the first pep rally was a new experience. The hilarious skits and dances of the Wranglers helped put them at ease and made them feel a part of the special Raider energy. Soon they joined in the fun, shouting cheers along with the juniors and seniors.

Last Homecoming The Best

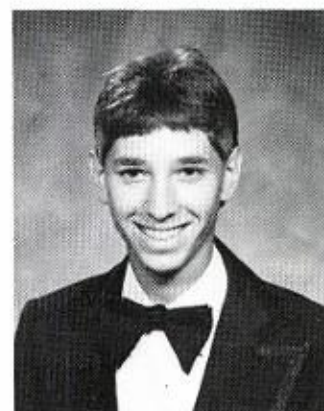

As the time drew near for the Homecoming '85 pep rally excitement increased. The extra energy was expressed as each class competed for the spirit award. Each of the spirit groups participated in a slow motion presentation of a student's memories of a Raider football game. The Raiderette officers danced, the Wranglers did their usual stunts, the cheerleaders cheered, and some senior guys made up a football team. Everything was done in slow motion to the theme of the movie "St. Elmo's Fire", to make the students stop and remember the good things about the football season. The fact that the football team was undefeated going into its eighth game, against Jesuit, energized the student body to show its spirit and encourage the football team. The highlight of the Homecoming pep rally was the announcement of the Homecoming Queen, Stephanie Railsback.

E: In a mock slow motion football game, at homecoming pep rally, the team prepares to cheer the opponents.

"I dress up for the pep rallies mainly because I want to help promote school spirit. I also believe it's a good way to show my support for the team and my school. I think acting and dressing outrageously at pep rallies is a good means of getting the student body "psyched" about what is going on and wanting to become a part of it."

Love Theme From St. Elmo's Fire
(For Just A Moment)

We laughed until we had to cry, and we loved right down to our last good-bye. We were the best I think we'll ever be; just you and me, for just a moment.

We chased that dream we never found, and sometimes we let one another down. But the love we made, made everything all right. We shone so bright, for just a moment.

Some day when we both reminisce we'll both say there wasn't too much we missed. And through the tears, we'll smile when we recall we had it all, for just a moment.

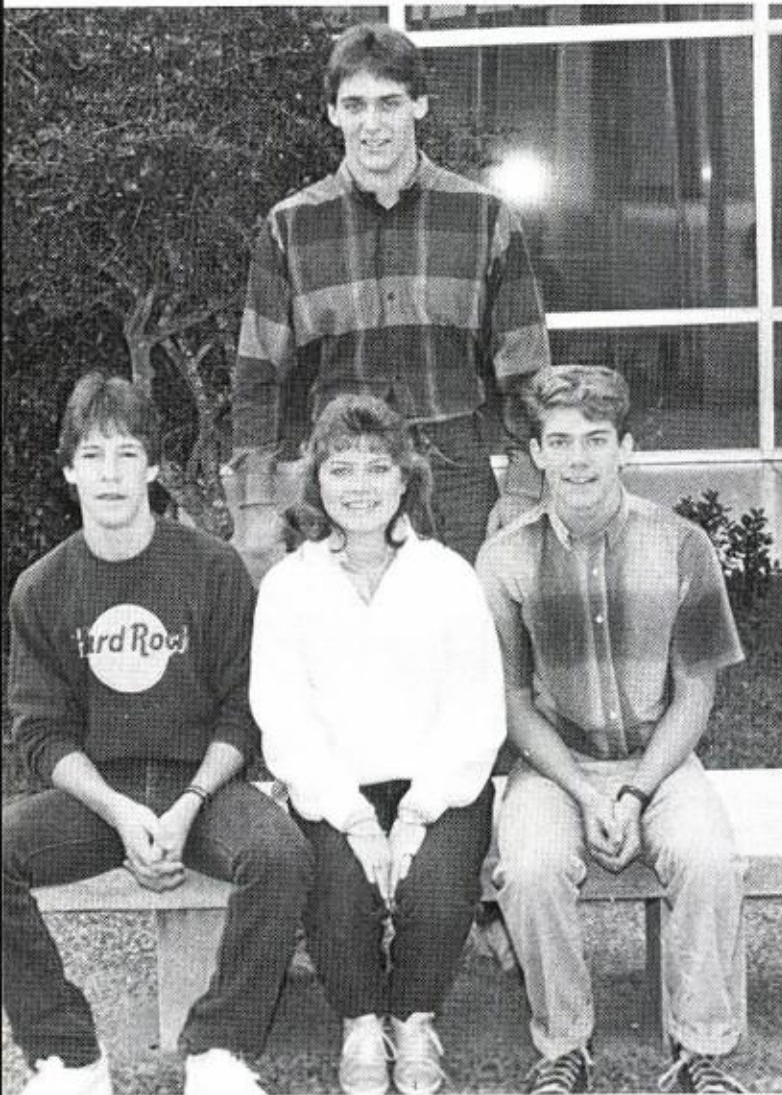

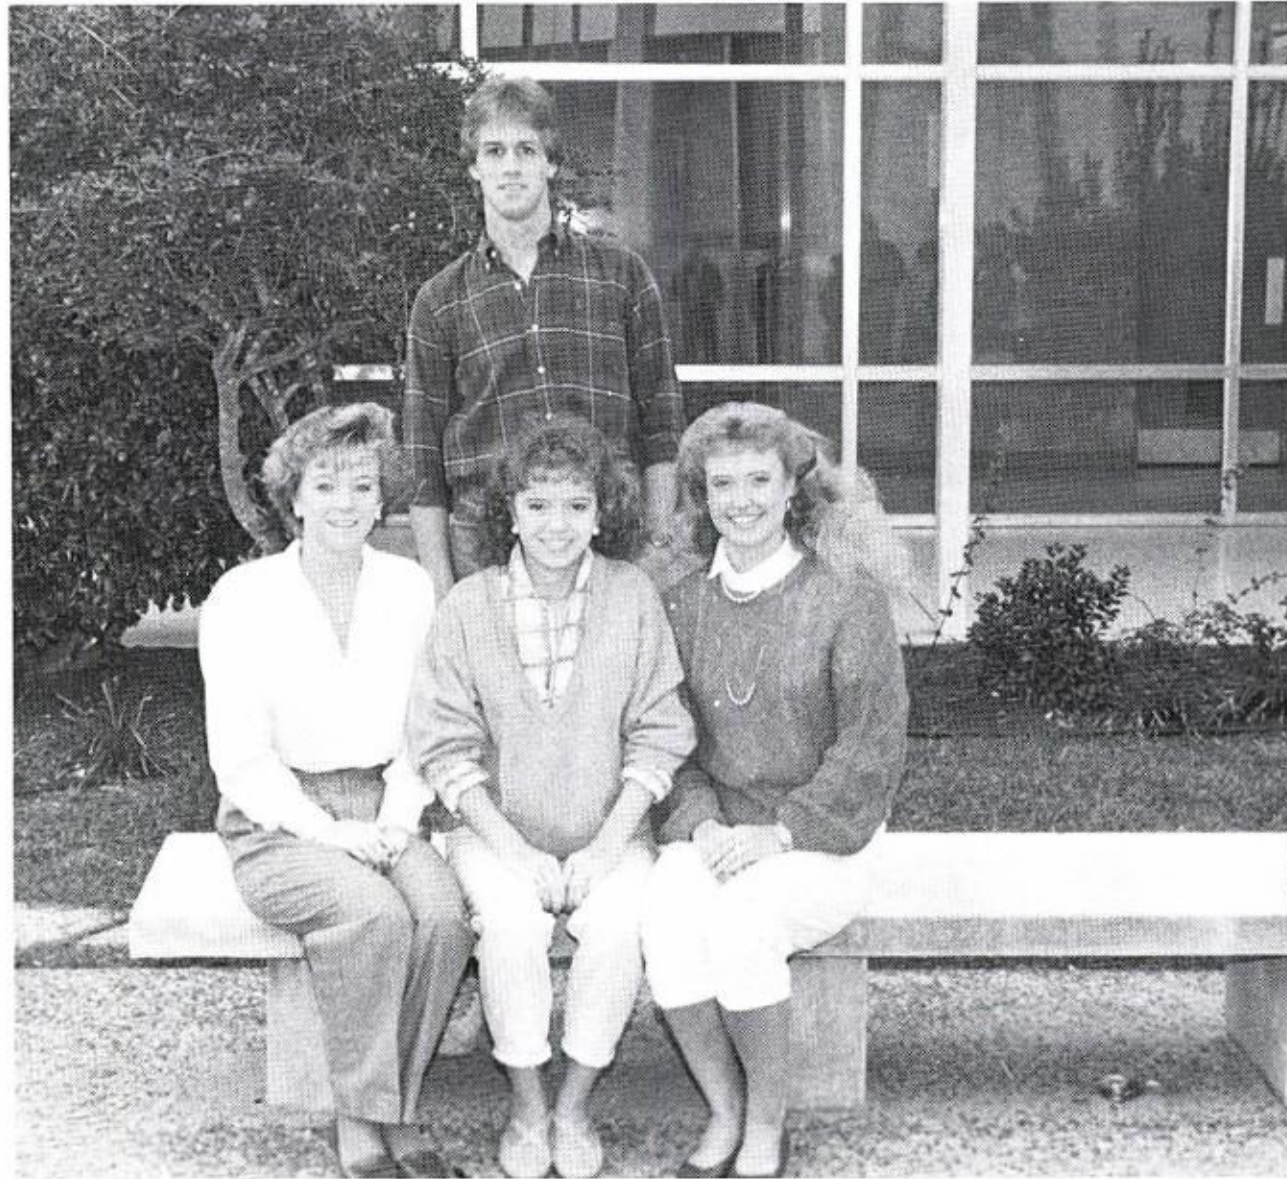

Bridge:
Time rolls on; people touch and they're gone. And you and I will never love again, like we did then. It will never really end. We'll never love again, like we did then.

Homecoming Meant Fun

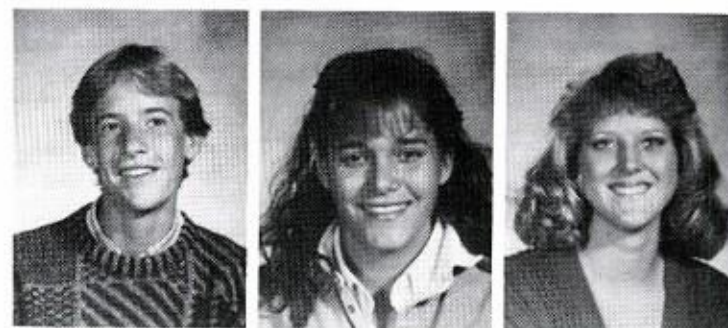

Homecoming 1985 meant fun for all. Working on the Junior Float and decorating the science hall was only the beginning. The whole week was full of anticipation for the Friday pep rally and football game. Girls spent hours worrying about what to wear and guys wondered how much they were going to spend. When the day finally arrived, the spirit shown by the Junior Class at the pep rally reflected the spirit of Homecoming '85.

Different Sciences Offered

At L. D. Bell, Juniors were offered two sciences. Those who opted for Biology I were lucky enough to be able to dissect worms and frogs, collect bugs and leaves, and memorize bone and muscle names. Those juniors who challenged themselves with chemistry were privileged to memorize the atomic weight chart. Whichever science was chosen provided juniors with new experiences.

Juniors Energize Everyday Class

Juniors' energy displayed in pep rallies was also channeled into their classroom work. With a heavier work-load, students used their extra five minutes of class to their advantage. Many juniors spent time in extra-curricular activities. With many organizations available, every student found an activity to suit him. Many participated in sports, while others joined the foreign language club of their choice. Many juniors took part in Young Life, and attended the weekly meetings. With their combination of work and fun, juniors completed a successful year at L.D. Bell.

Juniors Move To Middle Status

Juniors had to make a serious commitment to their schoolwork during their second year at L.D. Bell. They were aware that their accomplishments in high school would strongly affect their futures. Juniors carried a heavy load of classwork and projects, such as their junior theme. Although it would seem that a schedule such as this would become tedious, juniors had a special flair for adding energy to everyday classes. They displayed Raider spirit and energy in every aspect of their school life.

Juniors Show Spirit In Classes

During their second year at Bell, the Juniors found themselves the collective "middle man." They were no longer the young Sophomores of the school. They were accepted by their peers and were expected to take on more responsibility. As the year came to a close, they became anxious about their upcoming Senior year. For the first time, Juniors were required to take the TEAMS test in order to graduate. With tests such as this and the PSAT to complete, Juniors soon realized how close they were to graduation.

Sophomore Class Council

The Sophomore Class Council made their first year at Bell a busy one, by participating in many projects to raise money for Senior Year activities, and to promoting school spirit. The projects included selling candy during the fall and spring, sponsoring a dance in December, and sponsoring a computerized dating game and dance in the spring. The Sophomore Council promoted school spirit by making a float for the Homecoming Parade, winning first place in the float contest with their entry.

Sophomores Charge Pep Rallies

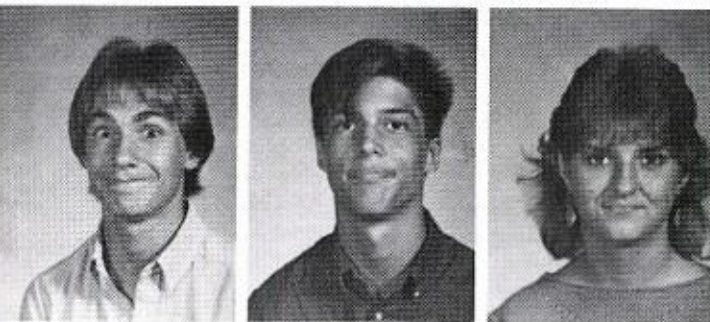

Moving from junior high to L.D. Bell was a big adjustment for the sophomores. The first confusing step was registration. It took many revisions for each sophomore to find their ideal schedule. On the first day of school, sophomores became a part of the mass hysteria known well by juniors and seniors. With new classrooms to find, sophomores found themselves racing through halls to make classes on time. However, through all the confusion sophomores made new friends and became reacquainted with old ones. Soon the sophomores adjusted to the energetic Raider scene and were joining organizations and attending games and dances.

Sophomore Raider Spirit Ignites

For sophomores, a new year at Bell meant not only a new school, but also new faces, classes and a time of adjustment. The sophomores, being a class of over 900, had a great opportunity to display their Raider spirit. They made signs for the pep rallies and supported the sophomore teams. During Homecoming week they worked on their float and decorated the halls. Their hard work was rewarded with the school spirit award for the Lamar pep rally.

Faculty

A Principal Of Principles

Mr. E. Don Brown is a man of principles, and he conveys his ideas to the entire student body at Bell. As the principal, Mr. Brown is responsible for the general operation and functioning of the entire school. He is in charge of everything from personnel and facilities, to disciplinary actions and student conduct. Mr. Brown has been principal for eleven years, and says that his favorite aspect of his job is getting a "fresh start" and a new challenge with the arrival of each new year. When asked what he would most like to improve at Bell, Mr. Brown replied that he would have all students participate to their fullest ability in all activities. He obviously follows his own advice as he shows his Raider Energy by attending as many school related activities as possible.

Top left: Mr. Brown enjoys a pep rally.

Top right: "Attention Please".

Bottom right: "How many times have I told you not to run in the halls?" Mr. Brown talks to Dr. Alan Koenig, deputy superintendent.

Mr. Griffin At Work

Mr. Steve Griffin is the assistant principal at L.D. Bell. He assists Mr. Brown in the operation of the school, and is in charge of the Junior and Senior boys' discipline. He also oversees traffic in the school parking lot in the mornings and during lunch. Mr. Griffin shows his Raider Energy by being involved in many school functions.

Right: Assistant Principal Steve Griffin hard at work.

Mr. Cook In Action

Mr. Bob Cook is also an assistant principal at Bell. He uses his experience to conquer the huge task of being in charge of Sophomore boys' discipline. Despite this difficult role, Mr. Cook is responsible for parking ticket sales, and is in charge of the Wranglers. Each of these jobs require an enormous amount of attention and patience. Mr. Cook handles his job with expertise and pride.

Special Raider Energy

Thirty years ago, Mrs. Kay Baker was a sophomore at Thomas Jefferson High School in Port Arthur, Texas. After she graduated, she attended North Texas State University in Denton, Texas. Now, as a girl's dean, Mrs. Baker has contributed her personal energy to her job. Working with the Student Council gives her an extra boost of energy to support her "enthusiasm and smile" that makes her a special Raider faculty member.

Far right: Mrs. Baker-17 years old.

Memories Of Another Era

Mr. Roy Fell remembers Reagan County High School as "playing football without a facemask, competing in U.I.L. sliderule competition, playing baseball with wooden bats and having a study hall period." When he thinks about his high school days, he remembers football, baseball, basketball, and track. On the other hand, college for Mr. Fell seemed to consist of research papers, science labs, exams, and many hours of studying. To Mr. Fell, the "no pass-no play" rule is nothing new. When he was in college, it was simply "no pass-get drafted."

H.E.B. School Board

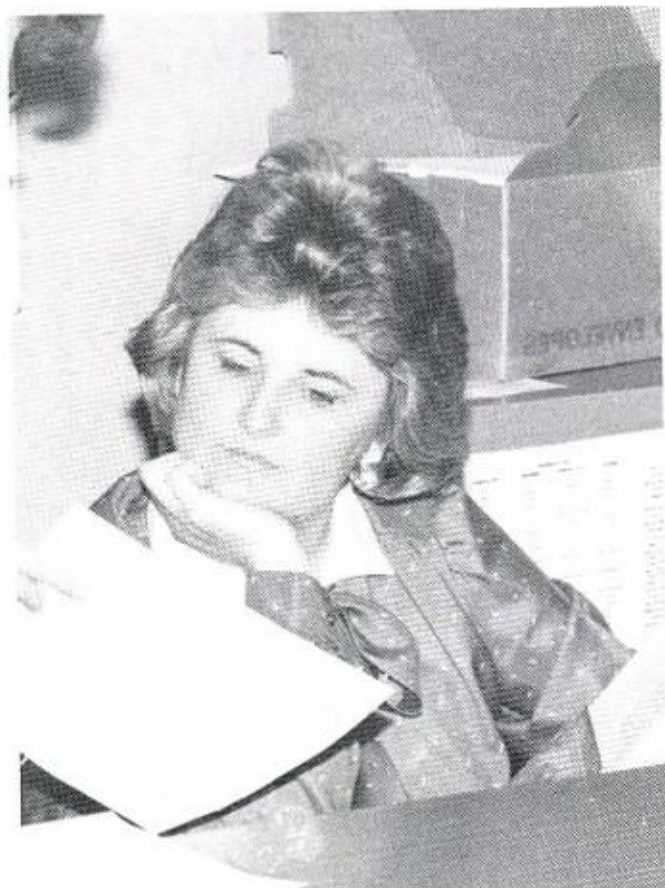

The 1985-1986 H.E.B. School Board played an active role in the school year by laying down strict guidelines for dress codes, extra-curricular activities and disciplinary actions. This diligent group handled these difficult tasks with great professionalism and contributed enormously to the smooth operation of each of the many schools in the district.

Superintendent Of Schools Resigns

Superintendent of HEB schools, Forrest E. Watson, shocked the school board as well as the entire area when he announced his resignation last fall. Dr. Watson explained that he was resigning in order to further pursue his own business interests. Even more shocking, however, was Dr. Watson's later announcement that he would withdraw his resignation and wanted to resume his role as superintendent.

This announcement was confirmed by Dr. Watson and by David Moon, president of the school board. In the few short years he has been here, Dr. Watson has converted a good district into a great one. Because of Dr. Watson, in part, Hurst-Euleless-Bedford is one of national prominence. This alone should be enough to provoke a well deserved welcome from the entire district to Dr. Watson upon his return.

In Memory Of Mr. Dwight Bellamy

Mr. Dwight Bellamy, teacher of sociology and government at Bell, died October 14, 1985. As he was a cherished part of the Bell faculty, Mr. Bellamy will long be remembered by students and administration who admired him for his expertise and cherished him for his friendship. Mr. Bellamy taught at Bell for four years and within this short time he brought something special to his classes by expressing interest in his students and in his work. Dwight Bellamy will be missed by students and faculty alike. This fact was shown by the students when they raised money for his daughter and the faculty bought a memorial painting for him which can be seen in the front office.

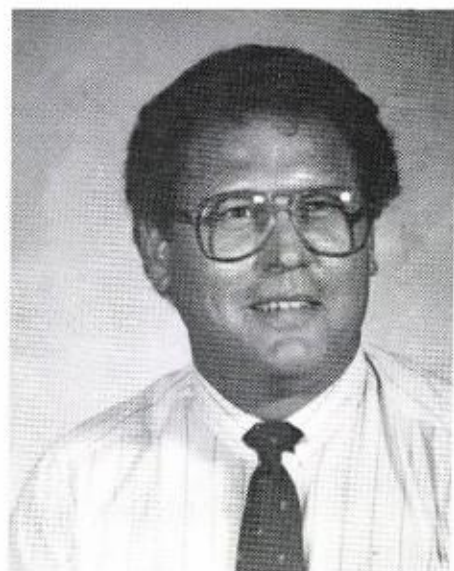

Mrs. Chandler Says . . .

Mrs. Barbara Chandler has been at Bell for one year. She previously taught at Ohio State University and was foreign language supervisor at a large school in Georgia. Mrs. Chandler teaches French and Spanish and says that she brings special excitement and interest to her classes by conducting them using the language being taught. She urges participation in class activities as well as in extracurricular activities.

Students Energize Teachers

Mary Anne Brock is an English teacher at Bell and is the sponsor of the cheerleaders. Mrs. Brock attended Baylor and Austin College. She feels that teaching was instilled as a worthy vocation by her mother, a teacher. It is a career that is very compatible with having a family.

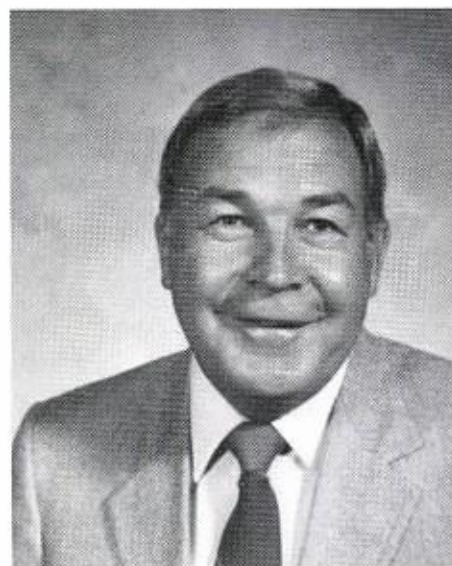

Mrs. Brock thinks the special energy it takes to be a Raider faculty member is tolerance. She tries never to get upset with her students. However, she does feel energized when she realizes a good relationship exists between her and her students.

When asked if you could tell a student one thing, what would it be, Mrs. Brock replied, "Set your goals high and on those things that will bring life long gratification, then work energetically to achieve those aspirations."

Mrs. Brock works diligently on her papers.

Variety Gives Classes Verve

Mrs. Sara Davis is a government teacher at Bell. She believes it takes great energy to be a Raider faculty member. She feels it takes great energy to keep up with the abundance of energy that the students bring into the class with them. To keep her students interested in government, Mrs. Davis uses numerous teaching methods, such as trials, group work, elections, guest speakers and projects.

Mrs. Sunnye

As a computer teacher, and a former math teacher at Central Junior High, Mrs. Sunnye Murdock brings energy into teaching. She teaches because she enjoys seeing young people succeed. She doesn't expect one student to equal another, just to put forth 100 percent in whatever they may attempt. She encourages each student to perform at a consistent level with his capabilities, and to achieve some success in whatever circumstance he may find.

Mrs. Murdock not only encourages students in the classroom, but one will also find her rooting Bell to victory. She not only cares about a student academically, but also as a person.

Mrs. Murdock is not only a teacher but, with a little respect, can be a great friend.

Mrs. Dianne Gibson

As a Government teacher, Mrs. Dianne Gibson brings energy into the classroom in many ways. She starts the very first day of school with a gleam in her eye and enthusiasm in her voice. Throughout the single semester students spend with Mrs. Gibson, they experience high voltage through trials, campaigns and other government projects.

Mrs. Gibson teaches because she enjoys kids and loves to see her students excel. She does not expect A's from every student, just the best they can give. She is continually encouraging her students. Her positive attitude often helps the students make it through the rainy days. Her constant willingness to give and her positive attitude makes her an example of Raider Energy.

Moses Ruiz

Coach Moses Ruiz has coached varsity tennis, junior varsity tennis, and P.E. for 16 years, 15 of which were at Bell. Coach Ruiz says that he chose coaching as a career because of success as a player. He won the Texas State Championship twice in college and had other successes during high school and college. The coach has developed his own special drills which help the players improve. He believes that tennis, besides being good for physical fitness, is reflective of true life situations. For example, he says that the one on one, against-all-odds competition which exist in tennis is indicative of many other more important aspects of life.

In general, Coach Ruiz loves the sport of tennis and believes that the self satisfaction gained from the sport is perhaps the most important aspect of the game. Coach Ruiz is the best tennis coach he can be, and this is reflected in the attitude and performance of his players. The combined efforts of coach, players, and team have made the L.D. Bell tennis program among the best in the district.

Mr. Cook

Mr. Bob Cook has traveled among the various schools in the H.E.B. school district. He taught art and P.E. at Hurst Junior High for eight years. After that, he worked at L.T.V. as an illustrator for seven years. He returned to teaching at Euless Junior High for one year as an occupational orientation instructor. He then came to Bell as the C.V.A.E. coordinator, and two years later was promoted to Assistant Principal at Euless Junior High. He held this position for five years, and then received the Assistant Principal job which he now holds.

Mr. Cook is from Ardmore, Oklahoma, and attended Southeastern Oklahoma State University. There he was the president of the Art Club and the president, vice-president, and historian of his fraternity in different years. Mr. Cook obtained his master's degree from North Texas State University.

In his spare time, Mr. Cook frequently visits the health club. He enjoys fishing and vacationing in warm summertime places. Mr. Cook can also be seen frequently at the movies and trying out the newest restaurants in town.

Being careful so as not to inflict another injury, Mr. Don Brown greets Dan Clark, an assembly speaker. Coach Mark Ball signals to players on the field as Scott Mullins leaves play at Texas Stadium.

Mr. Cook is 1960. Mr. Cook with his daughters in 1969.

It's Been Groovy

"Don't take Spanish II" - the ultimate advise of Mrs. Pam Wieland. Mrs. Wieland is a Spanish teacher who often jokes and kids with her students. She seems to enjoy her job even though her final career decision was made because teaching "was a proper and standard job for women."

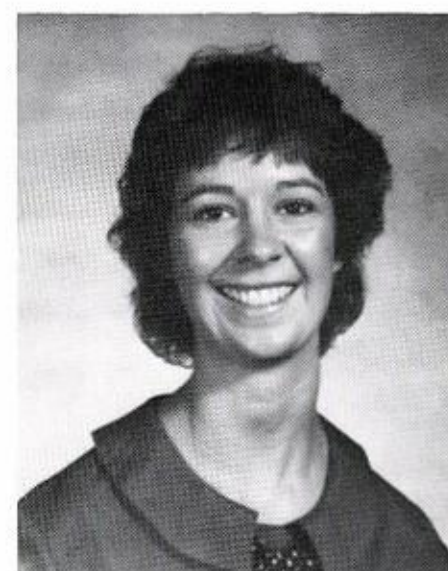

When Mrs. Wieland was in high school she was a studyaholic. She remembers studying, and more studying, with an occasional break to drive around the Sonic. Now, she views high school as a very social place. She thinks Bell is a very caring school where good student-student relationships occur. She sees no one group of students but instead "a bunch of party animals." In one word, Mrs. Wieland described this year as "groovy."

Cafeteria/ Custodians

The cafeteria ladies have many various jobs. They have to prepare well balanced meals that all students will enjoy. They always greet students with a warm and friendly smile.

The custodians of L.D.Bell have many jobs to do in and around the school. They sweep, mop, and pickup after the students. They keep the L.D.Bell campus looking its best.

Senior Follies Entertain

"The follies was a chance to see your friends make fools out of themselves and wish you were right up there with them."

-Debbie Baldwin, Sr.

It was time once again for Seniors to shed their shy exteriors and let the show-offs inside get out. Acts ranged from real talent like "The Boy From New York City", sung by Jenny Dowden, to outrageous skits and pantomimes such as "Cro-Magnon and the Neanderthals", performed by Shellaine Conant, Stephanie Pennings, Christa Cloutier, and Georgia Potter, to the time-tested humor of the Bummerettes. Somewhere, hidden deep beneath the laughter, was true, honest-to-goodness talent. However, the question remains, "Where?"

Score Two For The Champs

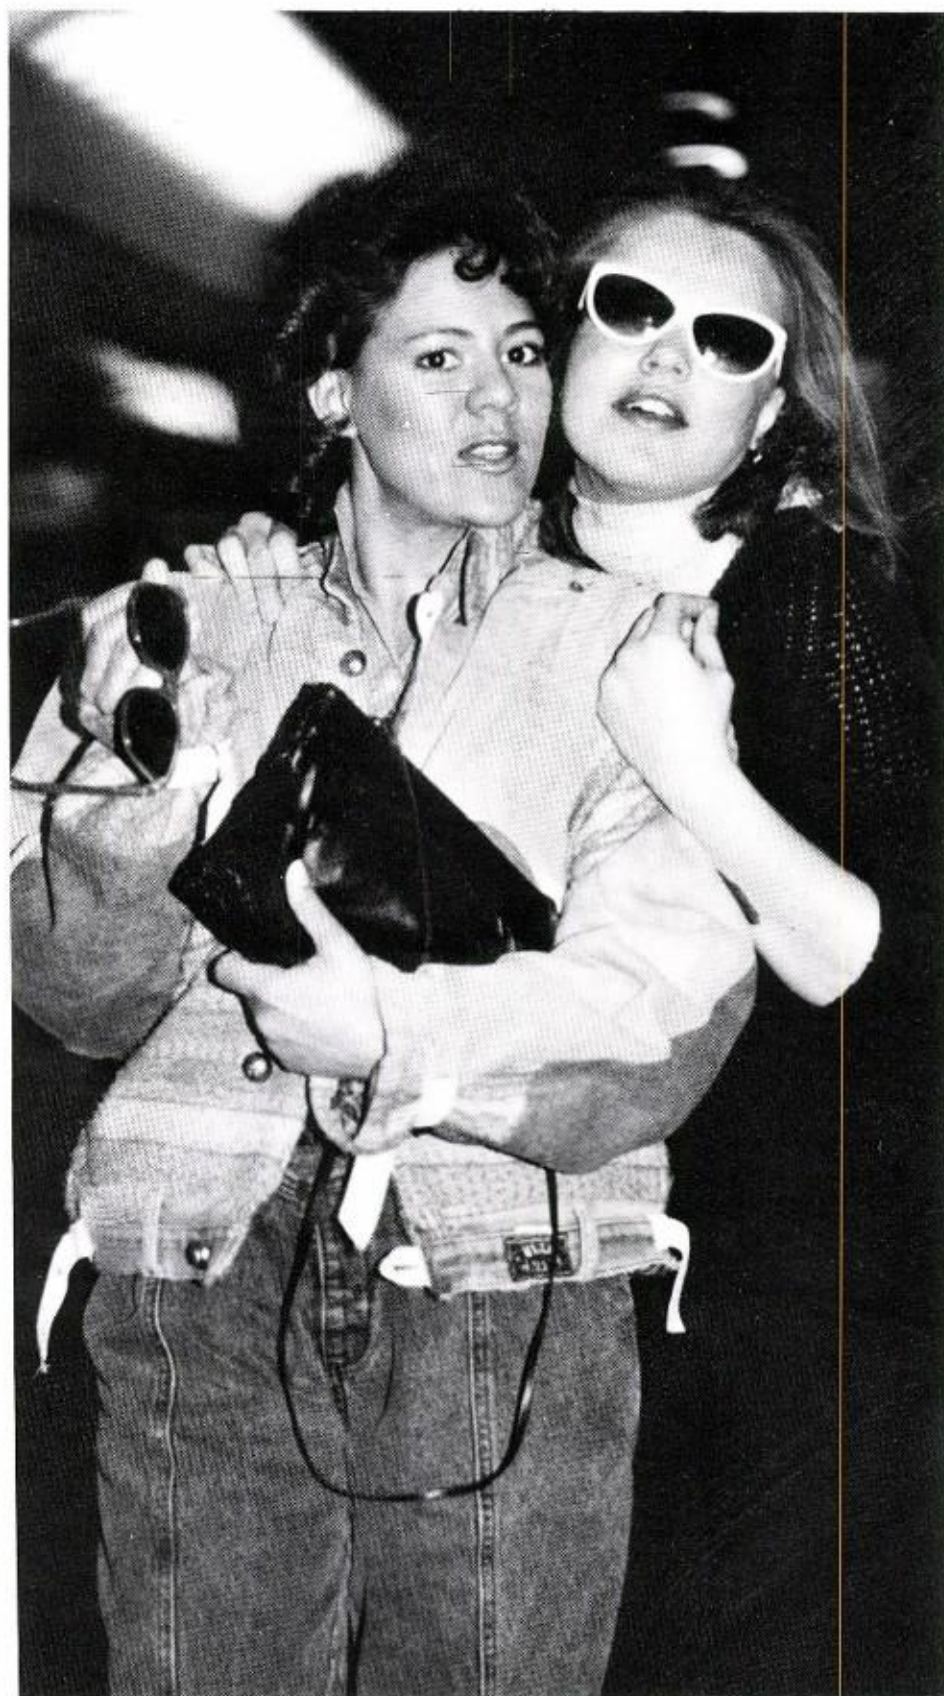

On Wednesday, February 4th, students were allowed to view teachers, wearing only gym shorts, sweat socks and tee-shirts bearing names such as "Kennedale Flash", "Crash 747", and "Marvelous Mo", play basketball against local F.C.A. team members. Unfortunately, the more "mature" Bell team lost to the younger athletes; however, there were several winners at the game. At half-time, a proud crowd of school champions paraded across the court. Some of the victors included the girls' soccer team, boys' basketball, football, and the victorious Academic Decathlon Team.

Culture Shock

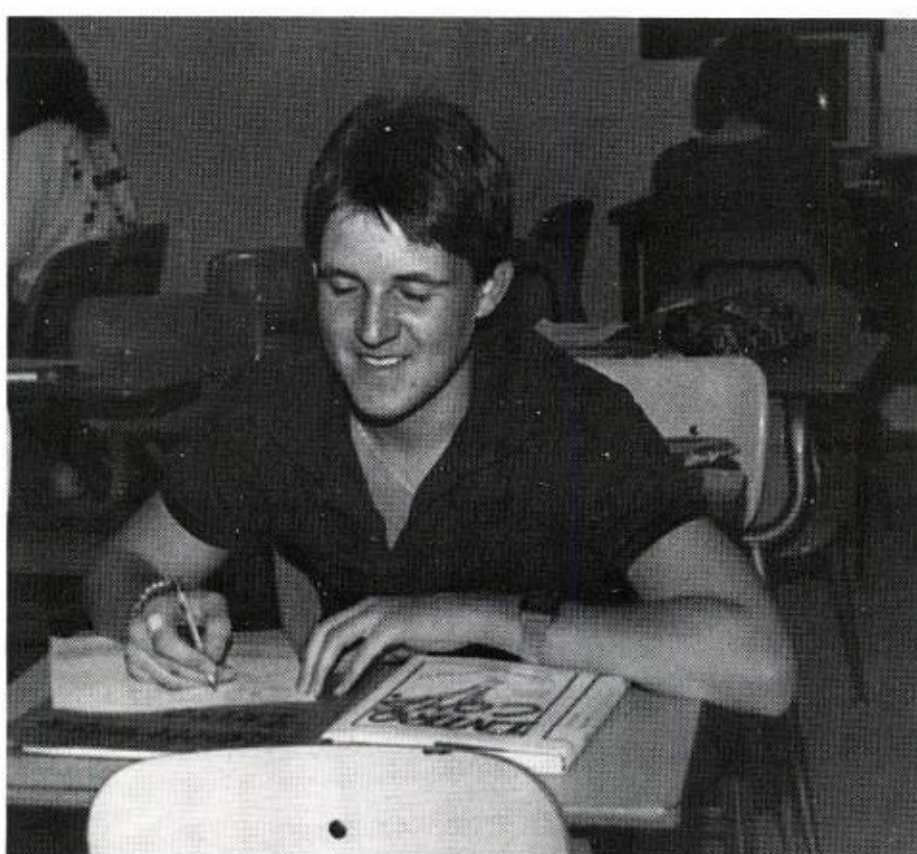

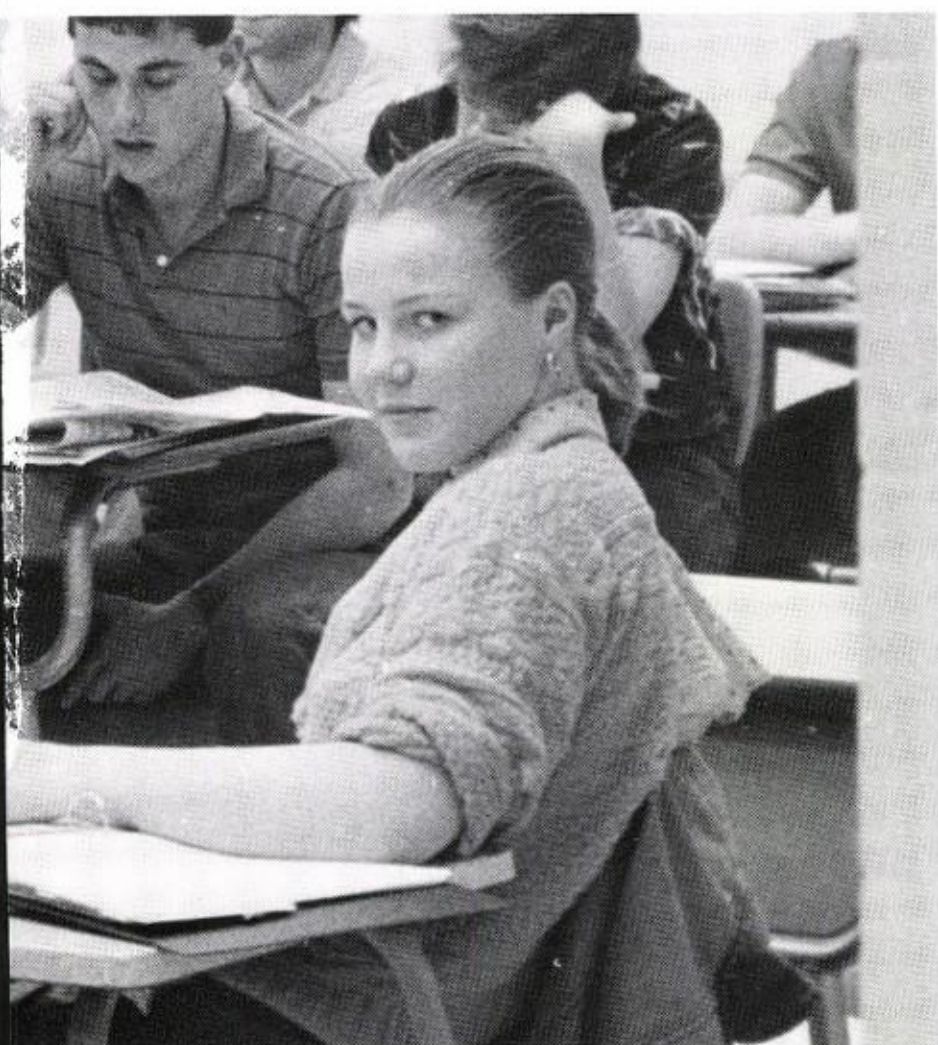

Imagine arriving in a foreign country, knowing only conversational bits of the language, and being exposed to an extremely different culture. For four special students, Nicky Lund of Denmark, Anja Helmbrecht of Germany, Marianna Berg of Norway, and Susanne Klami of Finland, the country was America, the language was English, and the culture a shock. According to Anja, "It's a wonderful experience; everything, the culture, the lifestyle, is so different, but it's exciting to learn about everything."

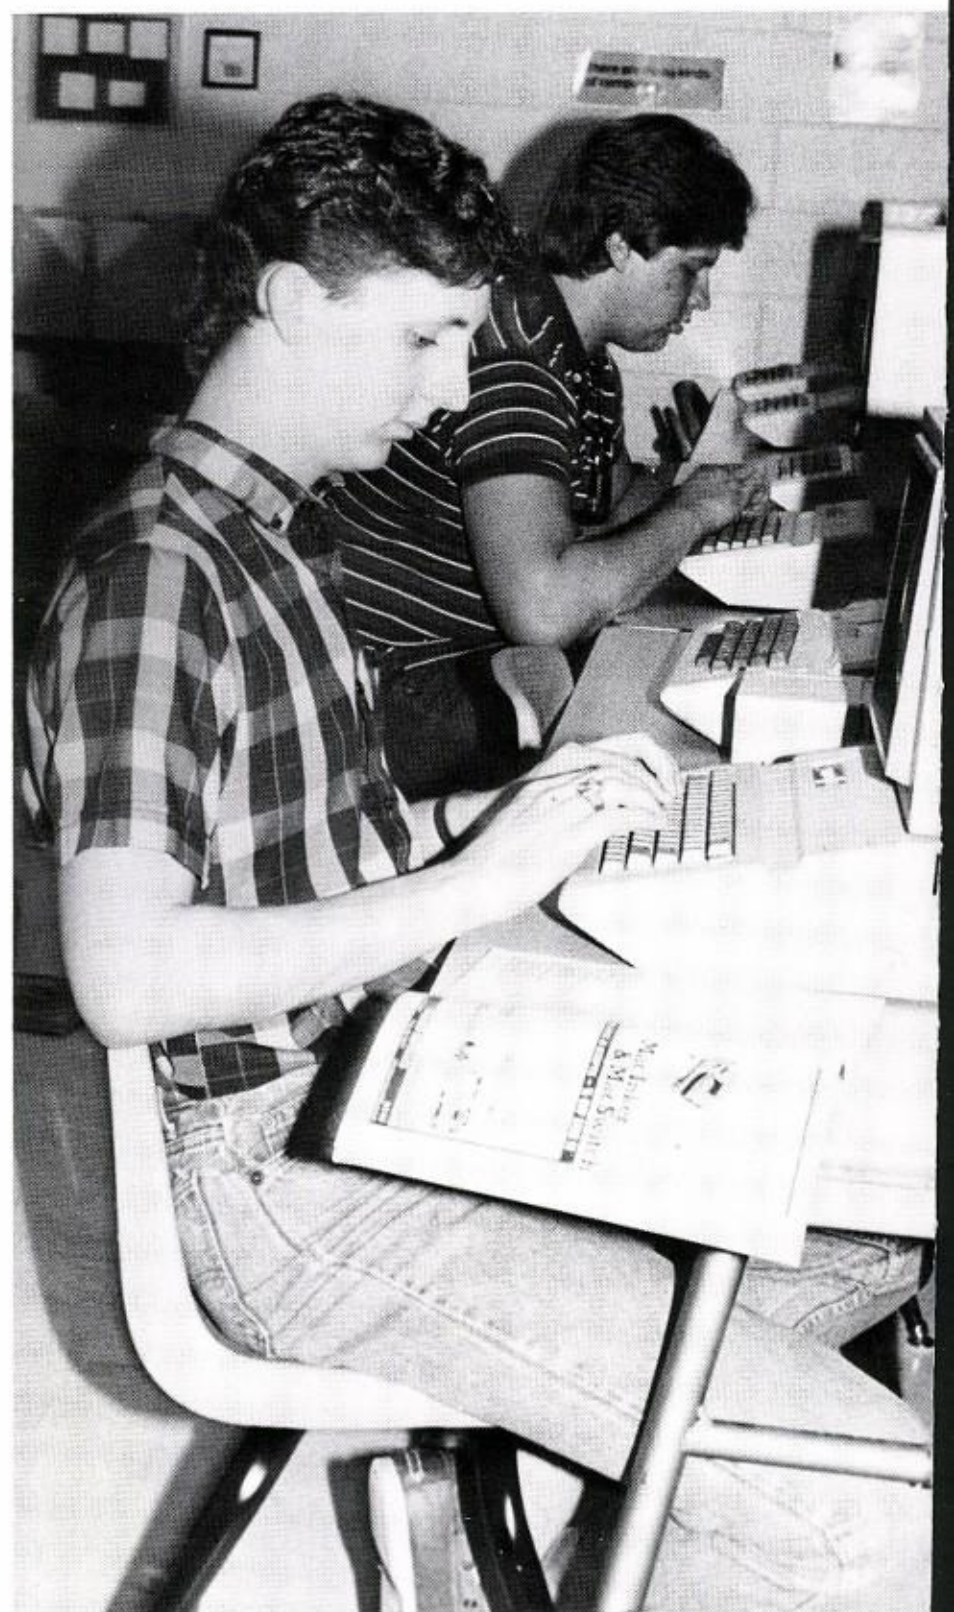

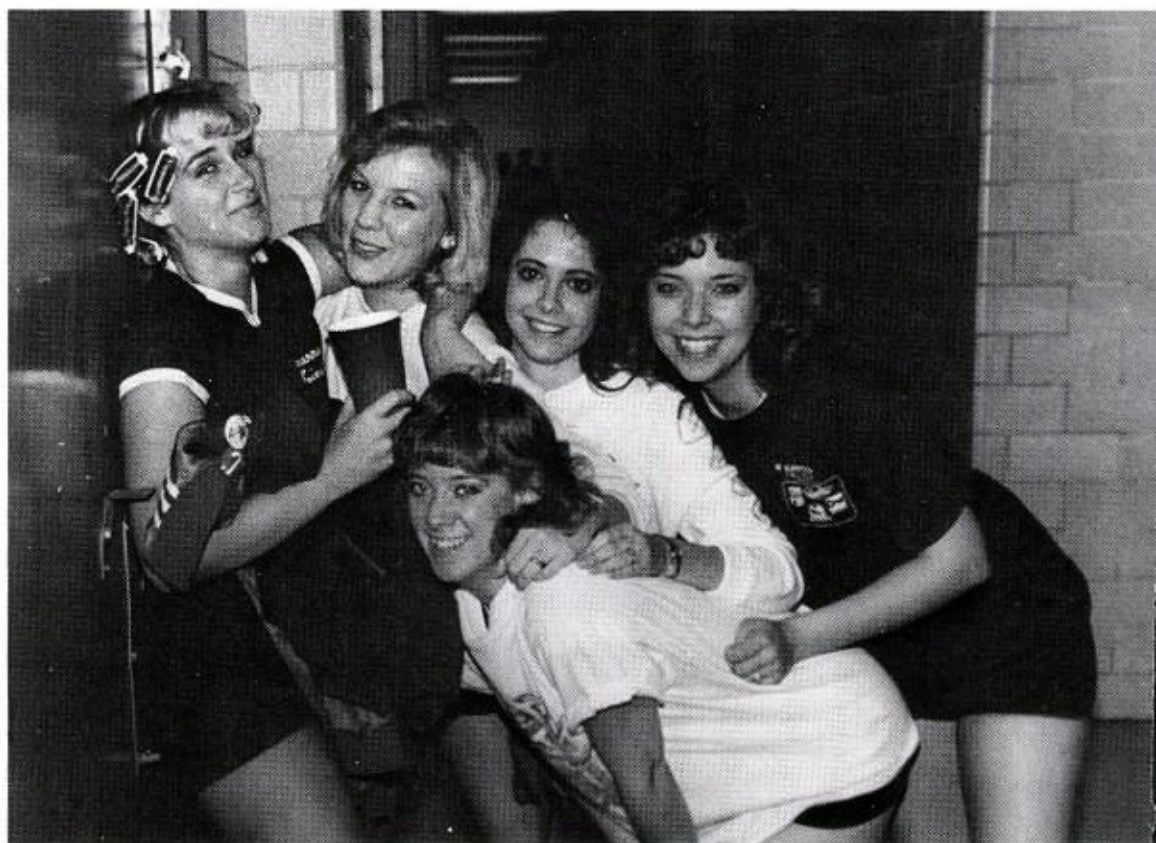

After traveling thousands of miles from home, these students expressed a desire to travel within the United States. New York, California, and Florida were the three most popular choices for places to visit. "If I could travel anywhere in the U.S.," said Nicky, "I would go to California to visit Disneyland and Hollywood."

Some American favorites included "Saturday Night Live", "The Cosby Show" ("It's my favorite show. I know I will miss it when I go back to Norway," commented Marianna), and hamburgers. Mexican food and pizza were also highly ranked American foods. American food?

Finally! We're finished! Well, for now anyway ... It's 12:48 a.m. and I'm very tired! But not too tired to thank each one of you for your moral and monetary support. I can't even believe this year is over! Really over! I would say it's been great, but it's been better than that! I will always remember the fun we had - the sword fights, movies, and the deadlines (or reasonable facsimiles thereof!) Oh! The deadline! I've really got to go! I'll never get through at this rate! Just one more time I have to say, "Thank for the memories!"

Luv always,

deb!

Wow! This year is about over! It's been so fun in geometry (na, na!) Hope we have more good times together next year!
See ya next
year!
Love you!
Dana

Lance,
I'm glad I got to know you, or know
you better this year.
You're a real cool dude!
Me, you, and Tom will hafta do some stuff
together this summer.
Maybe we can get together and play
some ... Brian

Lance: It's been a great year in Latin.

Steve Stricks

Just kidding. This summer you and I should go play some. Just remember your not as cool as Jeff Shaw or Christi Moore. But that's okay. We'll probably shoot two or three under for (B. CP. D. PUT ON YOUR LOVE BATS AND GET READY FOR THIS ~~BE~~ BULLSHIT). This summer I will be playing for my fifth U.S. Open. I've already won 4 straight opens. After the U.S. Open I will go to Great Britain and try for the British Open. I have yet to win my sixth British Open. After that's over with, I will go straight to Burbank. If you didn't know I'm in five T.V. shows. I'm not only an actor, but a director and producer as well. And after that I'll be eating dinner with the president. ~~And after that~~ ^{before} you and I ~~should~~ play a little golf at my course in California. I own the golf course. You may not have heard of it, but it's called Pebble Beach.

See you then

Steve Stricks

Lance,

Well, I wanted to say something real original but guess what I'm going to say: It's been a fun year in Latin. Contemplating Latin, life, and stuff with you and Steve has been fun. Thanks for the help on all those "surprise" homework assignments. Since it's your first year (ha!) and my last (yea) I guess I won't see you next year. Sorry to end this so quick but if you'll remember the bell just rang.

your friend,
Mike Knopf

Lance,

It's been great getting to know you this year. This summer me, you, Ben, and Brian should play some basketball. I hope we get some classes together next year.

Michael Brown

Lance,

I'm really glad I met you this year. You're a really nice guy. This summer we will be shooting in the 80's

Your friend

Ben

Lance,

We had as much fun as to be expected in biology and geometry. You're a real sweet and cute guy, and I hope to have you in some of my classes next year. I'll be looking for you on the varsity golf team next year. Have a super summer. See you next year! Love ya, Sandi McCann

Lance-
 hello!
 I'm really glad we got in head together and I'm glad we became
 better friends this year!
 Even though you did leave
 your a super sweet guy!
 me and Kristina about being tardy every other day! (HA HA)
 I hope to see you over the summer!
 love ya
 Elizabeth

Lance,

This your nostalgia friend
 we go way back and we've done
 alot together back in Shadyoaks Days at one time I thought we were gonna be really good friends. But it faded when you moved. Party a bunch this summer and cruise chicks -
 Andy Luth

PLASTICA

Lance,
 Well, can't really believe that we are finally gonna be junior. (Never thought it would get there!) Buddy,
 you just have a great summer
 you hear me! And don't you get yourself
 in any trouble. Really
 I hope you have a
 fun summer. See ya next year.

Love,
 Kristina

Lance,

Hey dude - done any madding
 lately - haha!! well - wasn't health fun - wish I could do it all over again - (joke) - well now your a junior aren't you excited! Hope to see you around this summer and next year! Party for me this summer too!

Love ya,

-Cherie-

Lance,
Well it's been a great year, Biology was a lot of fun. Even though Mr. Kiddle is so boring. You are a really nice guy.
I hope I take you in some of my classes
next year. Have a great summer.

Love,
Vickie Noel

Lance,
Hey dude! Have a great summer, and keep
stroking with the club.
See next year.

Later,
James Bergdorf

Lance,
Gosh, this year has gone by fast. I'm glad we had Heath together this year. It gave us a chance to help each other with English. You are a real sweet guy and I hope to see ya this summer!

Luv Ya,
Melissa

It is to bad
that you don't know
I will play softball.
Teach you sometime
Have a great summer
Lance

Lance,

Hey big, Latin man!
It's been fun in here! Well for me it has been. You oughta come watch us play softball some time. It's not to bad. I'm glad I'm getting out of here in a week, but I hope you have fun in here for another 2 years. I'm glad that I got to know you in Latin.
You're a cool kid with a lot of zeal.
Stay that way. Senior 88 is O.K., but
'86 is better. Scott

Lance:

I'm really, super glad that ~~you~~ we were in the same English class together. You're really a nice guy and you are really nice to be around. (That sounds terribly corny, but it supposed to sound nice. ^U) Well, have a great summer and hope to have English next year. Love,
 Jim (Food)

Lance,

In glad I got to know you this year. You're really smart and you're a great friend. I really hope you prosper from your work on your golf. We all need to play golf this summer. OK?

Chris

Lance,

Very nice. Hope you and I'm glad you're still friends. Remember last year went slow, but that year went by fast. I'm always English isn't it. Maybe next year will be something else. I think you're a great guy & friend, & you golf, you, I hope you have a great summer. Have fun playing golf or whatever else you feel like doing. Love,
 Dorothy

Lance,
 It's been great knowing you this year, and I hope we get in more classes together next year. See you over the summer! Love,
 Mary

The golfer,
 Well Bud, the year
 is already over. It's been a pretty okay year here in Latin. I don't know whether I'll continue my Latin Education. So you had better find someone else to cheat off of next yr. HA HA!
 HAVE A GREAT SUMMER. Maybe you, Steve + I can go play golf sometime and I'll show ya'll how it is done.

Kirk Hard

Being the most famous, fantastic, outrageous, awesome, golfer on the face of this earth, I have no idea how Jack Nicholas feels. But seriously now. I hope your game improves as much as mine is going to, over the summer. And maybe someday you will be privileged enough to be on the same course as myself

Chance

Chance,
 I'm glad I got to know you this year! English projects were great huh? When you & Chris go play golf take me along and I beat the pants off you! (not really,
 my golf expertise ends at putt-putt) Have a great summer! Love,
 Kerry

Chance,

I am very happy that I got to meet you. Even though we had to be in Latin. Was not that bad.
 You are real sweet and cute. I hope you stay that way. Good luck in your game of golf. And good luck in everything you do.
 You will do good! Miss ya see ya next year and over the summer. Love ya lots,
 Lisa

Chance -

I'm really glad that
 we've had English
 & Biology together
 this year. It's been an experience. Good luck
 in all that you do.
 Keep in touch - see you
 this summer

Love Ya,
 Pam

Lance,

hey sweetie, we finally made it. Can you believe it? I'm really glad we got to be friends. You're a really great person. Thanks for being there when I needed you & listening to all my ~~problems~~ loving problems. I know I'm long winded & probably talk too much. It's sometimes better to keep your mouth shut.

I have a secret to tell you maybe someday I'll tell you. K.I.T.

282-0119

P.S. see you next year.

or

over the summer (maybe)

Love ya,
Cara Minge

Lance,
hey I will not write my 'inner feelings'. This year of sarcasm has been great and I hope that it will hold over the summer & I think you're cool and I have a word, no several words of advice: BEWARE THE FLOWERING DOGWOOD. Have a great Summer!

Lance,
Well school is finally over and summer is here. I'm glad we had health together because I probably wouldn't have met you otherwise. You are very cute and sweet. You will go far in life if you stay that way. I hope we have some classes together next year so I can get to know you better. Have a great summer!

Cathy

TO ONE SWELL GUY: 86
Lance,

This year is officially (almost) over. I can't really believe it. I was really fun being in it. I was especially since no just kidding. I have a Good Summer. I love ya lots, ~~James~~ James. It's been fun.

Having you in town I this year. You're really sweet and smart and you're "live & learn" smiling. Live & learn to tell people to have a great summer, DO HAVE ONE!

Love,
Jamie

O.k. Lance

I found a little space to sign this sucker. Let me squeeze in a little memorable type stuff here. Been fun in Health, eh?

Ya I thought so. It's always more fun when you're in a blow-off class. I also enjoyed being able to talk behind people's backs in front of their faces (the intellectual types right?). Well I guess I need to conserve writing area here - so -

Later,

Brad
Michael

Lance,
it's a lot of fun of the year again and it seemed like it went
so fast. But anyway
I hope you have a
good time in varsity golf next year. I know you will do great.

Jimmy
Dassley

Lance,
I've had a real
fun time having you in J.V. Golf "Rejects", but of course you were the best. Good luck in Golf next year. Hopefully we can play some this Summer.
But you live in BFE.
Later, Water
Tater

Hey Lance
I was looking through this last night & noticed you were in golf? Oh well learn something new every day & guess. See you next year.

-Bob Lloyd

Hey Lance,
It's been a fun
year, but it's finally over! I'm glad you were in my geometry class, but I wish you had been in my latin (so there would have been some competition for the "candy bar.") I'm glad I met you & hope to see you this summer. Your Friend
